YOUNG WIFE OF ALLEGED PIRATE SUPPORTS ALIBI

Defence Calls Witnesses to Prove Eggers in Seattle
During Hijacking

Was at Prize Fight When Liquor-laden Hadsel Robbed, They Say

After fighting yesterday to break down all Crown identification evidence linking Milo Eggers with the hijacking of the liquor-laden launch Hadsel in Peter's Cove, Pender Island, on March 4, 1924, the defence this morning called a string of witnesses in an effort to set up an alibi for the alleged young liquor pirate.

Mrs. Milo Eggers, his wife, Mrs. P.
Eggers, his mother, workers engaged with "Pop" Eggers in Seattle, one of whom informed the court, "We are all one family on the waterfront," and referred to Milo as "His Kibba," swore the accused was in Seattle on the day of the hijacking, and another swore that Milo was at a prizefight in Seattle during the evening of March 4—the day of the hijacking.

KEEN CROSS-EXAMINATION
Every witness called by J. R. Russell, counsel for Eggers, was keenly cross-examined by A. M. Johnson, K.C., Crown counsel, who checked their evidence closely with that given during the extradition proceedings in Tacoma and questioned them at length as to how they were able to fix so clearly the events of March 4 over three years ago and Milo's movements on that particular day.

MOTHER ON STAND
Mrs. Eggers, mother of Milo, questioned on Milo's movements a day or two previous and a day or two after, clashed with Crown counsel.
"Why do you ask such foolish questions?" she asked, as counsel fixed question after question at her.
To another question she replied, "I have already told you that."
"You may have told, my learned friend, not me," said Mr. Johnson.
"Well, if you have heard me say it to him, what is the difference?" she sharply retorted.

BATTLE IN FOCHOW PROVES INDECISIVE

Peace Negotiations Between Tang's Forces and Chinese Nationalist Leaders

Fochow, China, Oct. 13.—The streets of this city were battled today for Nationalist forces who attempted to expel followers of Tang Hsu-ching. A number of casualties were reported.

Tank Hsu-ching has demanded a million Mexican dollars as the price of evacuating the city. A half-million Mexican dollars had been paid him and his further demands were refused.
Prior to the arrival of the Nationalist, Tang Hsu-ching had closed the city and prepared for battle. The Nationalists succeeded in breaking into the city and carried the battle into the streets. The engagement was not decisive, however, commercial representatives attempting to negotiate a peace.
All shops were closed and business was paralyzed.
All foreigners in the city were safe.

NEW SOLID TOLMIE ORGANIZATION HERE

Move to Eliminate Bowser Men From Proposed Body

Efforts to establish one Conservative organization in Victoria that will be solid for Dr. S. F. Tolmie as leader of the Tory party in British Columbia and eliminate acrimonious discussions between Bowser and Tolmie factions now featuring meetings became known today.

W. C. Winkie is reported to be behind the movement or active as organizer of the proposed new organization.
The membership sought is a solid Tolmie membership, and any Conservatives known to be favorably inclined to W. J. Bowser will not be welcome.
It is understood.

Political matters tending to create division in the ranks will as far as possible be eliminated from the organization, with educational matters and Conservative principles the main subjects for discussion at the meetings.

SAYS RADIO UNABLE TO TAKE THE PLACE OF NEWSPAPERS

Guglielmo Marconi

New York, Oct. 13.—Radio can never take the place of the newspapers and broadcasting probably encourages newspaper reading, Guglielmo Marconi told The New York Evening World today.

The leading authority on radio in the world seemed amused by the idea that the invention which he did so much to develop ever could harm the newspapers. "People listen intently to radio reports of outstanding events," he pointed out,
"but then they buy a newspaper to find out more."

"The newspaper has this distinct advantage of being a record," he said.
"You cannot paste radio announcements in a scrapbook. The newspaper put news down in black and white."
"Of course the radio has its advantages," the inventor said. "A radio impulse can travel around the world in one-fourth of a second and news can be transmitted almost instantly."
The newspaper cannot bring to the world the splendid musical programmes available through the radio, but the press, he feels, always will be the big power in the world for the expression of opinion by rulers and statesmen and for the big events of news.

MRS. C. LUCAS RESIGNS FROM HEALTH CENTRE

Dr. H. E. Young Has Had Formal Resignation Since Early September

Mrs. Cella A. Lucas, superintendent of the Saanich War Memorial Health Centre, has submitted her resignation to Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, but is carrying on her duties, at the urgent request of Dr. Young, during the reorganization of the public health service of Saanich under Dr. David Berman.

Mrs. Lucas this morning informed The Times that her resignation had been placed in the hands of Dr. Young early in September last, but that she had been pledged to take no further steps to secure relief from duty until the return of Dr. Young from Ottawa, which is expected next Thursday.
Under the direction of Mrs. Lucas
the Saanich War Memorial Health Centre has carried on a public health nursing service which has attracted the attention of public health organizations throughout America, and has culminated in the Rockefeller Institute support of the work being carried on from the Provincial Health Department, largely as a result of the record in health work attained by the Health Centre under the direction of Mrs. Lucas.

High Commissioner For South Africa Now Joins Flag Debate

London, Oct. 13 (Canadian Press Cable).—J. S. Smuts, High Commissioner for South Africa in London, has taken up the issue on behalf of the Nationalist Government over the flag question. In an interview at Aberdeen he pointed out there was no Union Jack on Scotland's distinctive national symbol, yet nobody would ever call the Scotsmen disloyal or suggest that the Scottish people wanted to secede because they had not incorporated the Union Jack on their national flag.
"It is exactly the same with us in South Africa," he continued. "What we, as the Dominion of South Africa want, is a distinctive symbol."

REPAIRS DELAY PLANE

Berlin, Oct. 13.—The Heinkel hydro-aeroplane D-1220, which left Brunsbüttel this morning for Amsterdam, en route to the United States by way of the Azores, landed at Wilhelmshaven for further repairs. (Wilhelmshaven is about sixty miles west of Brunsbüttel.)

Woman Thief Is Hunted Now In Terminal City

Female Raffles Blamed For Burglary of Several Residences There

Key Found in One Front Door
After She Was Frightened Away

Vancouver, Oct. 13.—Local police are working on the theory that a female Raffles is operating in the city, gaining entrance to and burglarizing houses. Recently a number of houses in the Mount Pleasant district have been robbed and the authorities have been unable to discover the culprit.
Information has been received, however, that a woman was seen at one residence, inserting a key in the front door lock, the key being left when the approach of a pedestrian caused the intruder to hurry away.

PREMIER OF B.C. SPEAKS IN NELSON

Dr. MacLean Shares in Campaign Preceding By-election in That Area

Says Growth of District Calls
For Early Start on Nelson Bridge

Nelson, Oct. 13.—Premier J. D.
MacLean, making his first appearance in the Nelson by-election campaign, addressed a large audience in the Opera House last night.

He said Hon. S. F. Tolmie had displayed flippancy in assuming he could sit down and write out a policy on the back of an envelope in half an hour, as the Conservative leader had described to a Nelson meeting a few days ago. The Liberal policy had been made after mature deliberation by Liberal conventions, he said.

Premier MacLean announced he had decided to advance by one year the time for building the Nelson bridge.
Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, in outlining the Government's policy to the Board of Trade a month ago, had followed the construction programme for the whole Province, drawn up by the secretary and announced to the House a year ago. That policy called for the completion of the bridge when the present ferry went out about two years hence.
Premier MacLean said traffic requirements were increasing so rapidly he felt it was necessary to go ahead with the bridge a year sooner.

PROMISES FOUNDATIONLESS

Promises made by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, he said, were presumptuous, for Dr.
Tolmie was not even in the Legislature, let alone in the Government, and even if he won the next election he would not be able to get his legislation and finance in financial shape before 1931.

HOUSE OF STUDENTS IS QUARANTINED

Youth Suffering With Infantile Paralysis in Hospital in Vancouver

Vancouver, Oct. 13.—Patrick Taylor of Kelowna, a student at the University of British Columbia and resident at the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity house at 1910 Dunbar Street, is in the Vancouver General Hospital today suffering from a mild case of infantile paralysis.

Acting in collaboration with Dr. W.
H. Hill, university health officer, Dr.
P. T. Underhill, city health officer, ordered the fraternity house, at which five other out-of-town students are resident, quarantined until danger of infection has passed.

Taylor, who is popular athlete and student, came from his home at Kelowna about ten days ago. He was taken ill yesterday morning and was removed to the hospital immediately.

Precautionary measures have been taken by city and university health authorities and the situation, it is stated, is not dangerous.

MINERS TRAPPED IN THEIR PIT

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 13.—Sixty-nine workers were reported trapped today in the Peach shaft of the Glendale Coal Company's mine at Jessup, near here, after the breaking of a wheel on a hoisting apparatus.
The men are said to be in no danger, but can not get out of the underground tunnel because there is no other opening.

Bennett Invited To Visit Victoria

New Conservative Leader
Asked to Address Meeting of Western Mayors

Vancouver, Oct. 13.—Mayor Louis
D. Taylor has telegraphed to Hon.
R. B. Bennett, new Federal Conservative leader, an invitation to attend the third annual convention of the Western Unity and Development League in Victoria next week.
The mayor is president of the league.

K. A. Blatchford, M.P. for Edmonton, will speak on "Peace River Problems" and Mayor W. G. L.
Hardy of Lethbridge will open the discussion on immigration.
Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., and W. W. W. K.C., president of the C.P.R., have notified Mayor Taylor of their inability to attend.

BENNETT CLOSING UP BUSINESS AFFAIRS

Expected Soon to Move to Federal Capital

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Hon. R. B. Bennett, newly elected leader of the Conservative Party of Canada, announced this afternoon that he planned to leave this evening for New York in order to fulfill business appointments that were made some time ago. The date of his return to Canada is uncertain. Miss Mildred B. Bennett, his sister, stated he would return to Calgary as soon as possible thereafter.
Mr. Bennett said he had started to clear up his private business prior to entering actively upon the duties of the leadership.

"This is my busiest day," he said.
"You know acceptance of the leadership of my party means I must at once resign a whole lot of my possibilities that have meant much to me.
To-day I am starting to do it."
"I can not, however, let this opportunity pass without expressing my very great appreciation of the kindness shown to me by everyone."

STATEMENT SOON

"I am sorry I can not yet issue a statement as leader of the party. The whole thing is so new and I have so many things to do."
Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, expressed satisfaction at the leadership selection made yesterday by the convention.

Mr. Bennett will do a great deal to link up the East and West more

WILLIAM LE QUEUX DIED IN BELGIUM

British Novelist Authority on European Secret Service Systems

London, Oct. 13.—The London Evening News states that William Le Queux, novelist and an authority on the secret service of continental European powers, died today at Knocke, Belgium, after several weeks' illness of heart trouble.
Mr. Le Queux had traveled extensively, collecting material for his stories, visiting Algeria, Morocco, Macedonia, Turkey, Montenegro, Serbia, Albania and many other countries. In wandering off the beaten track he picked up a close knowledge of the secret service of the continental powers and was consulted by the British Government at times on such matters.
Mr. Le Queux was sixty-three years old. He acted as war correspondent for The London Daily Mail in the Balkan War, but since then had devoted his time to novel writing.

REINDEER CENSUS IS TO BE TAKEN SOON IN ALASKA

Akiaka, Alaska, Oct. 13.—Preparations are being made here for the first round-up of the estimated 30,000 reindeer in the Kuskokwim River basin. Reindeer owned by Eskimos and whitemen will be driven to Akiaka next month for counting and marking. The round-up, which will be under the supervision of Professor Clark M. Garber, district superintendent for the United States Bureau of Education, will mark the first attempt to deter-

COMMENDS WORK OF PREMIER MUSSOLINI; G. BERNARD SHAW

MUSSOLINI PRAISED BY BRITISH WRITER

In Letter to Turin Paper Bernard Shaw Voices His Respect For Premier

Turin, Italy, Oct. 13.—George Bernard Shaw has reaffirmed his belief in Premier Mussolini in a letter published in The Gazzetta del Popolo. The letter was in the form of a reply to one written by Frederick Adler, Austrian editor, to an English newspaper attacking Shaw for his views on Mussolini.

Shaw is quoted as saying one must treat with respect a man of a foreign state who has established a dictatorship in a great and modern country without any single personal advantage, without any social, official or academic co-operation, but with only his "blackshirt."

Italy, after the World War, was left in a situation analogous to that Napoléon found in France on his return from his Egyptian campaign, Shaw declares. Mussolini then, without the military prestige of Napoleon, did for Italy what Napoleon did for France, the letter says.

CURRENCY VALUES

Discussing at length the subject, dictatorship or democracy, Shaw asserts the despotic line is worth three pence in British money, while the democratic franc is worth only two pence.

Italy, declares Shaw, is governed by a man who is the product of the people, while France, free, equal and brotherly, is ruled by "Monsieur" Poi-naire. Mussolini, despite his impulsive acts, which may appear menacing, has not yet damaged the NRe, separated Rakovsky's strong box in imitation of England, says Shaw.

If one compares Italy with the Utopia of Mazzini, Italy may appear plainly abused and tyrannized, Shaw declares, but likewise is America, France, England and Russia.

MUCH EXCITEMENT AT CHURCH MEETING

Dr. T. T. Shields and Group Object to Ontario Baptist Convention Rulings

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Heated arguments occurred at this morning's session of the thirty-ninth annual convention here of the Baptists of Ontario and Quebec. Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields of Toronto and his supporters attended, and the disagreements followed the recommendation of the committee on arrangements that discussions should be limited to fifteen minutes for each speaker and that speakers from each side should be heard alternately.

INDEPENDENCE FOR PHILIPPINES IS U.S. LABOR'S DEMAND

Los Angeles, Oct. 13.—Endorsement of immediate independence for the Philippine Islands was voted by the American Federation of Labor here today five minutes after the convention delegates had moved to exclude Asiatics from the continen-

ELEVATOR HEAD HERE TO CONFER WITH COUNCIL

No Doubt About Big Flow of Grain Coming to Victoria, Says J. A. Mooney

J. A. Mooney, president of the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited, has arrived in Victoria today to meet the industrial committee of the City Council this afternoon in a round table conference on the progress of work.
Mr. Mooney spoke optimistically of the success being met with by his company in interesting grain growers of the prairies in the Western Canada grain route.

Lack of elevator space at coast points has been responsible for routing a great deal of grain to Fort William at a loss, said Mr. Mooney, and farmers will readily take advantage of greater capacity at the coast.

"There is not the least danger of not obtaining enough business to keep this elevator busy," said Mr. Mooney.
"In addition to that, I believe it will bring a great increase of business to Victoria by the additional employment as well as the ordinary business completed by boats at a port."

There are now 100 members in the Western Saskatchewan and Alberta wheat pool who hold $500,000 of the stock of the Victoria Elevator, and prairie people are enthusiastic about an elevator at this point, Mr. Mooney added.

OLD-TIME RESIDENT OF PROVINCE DIED

R. Draney, Who Succumbed on Fraser Ranch, Formerly Lived in Victoria

Murrayville, Oct. 13.—Robert Draney, a pioneer resident of British Columbia and well-known canneryman, formerly of Victoria, died early this morning at his ranch, Killarney, in his seventy-seventh year. He had been prominent in the establishment of many industries in Victoria.

Born in Oxford County, Ont., Mr.
Draney came to Victoria in 1874, when he was three years of age. Early in life, five years later, he became connected with the cannery business. He was interested in the old Aberdeen Cannery at Skeena.

He was instrumental in the building of the R. I. C. Cannery at Rivers Inlet and two others, one at Namu and one at Kinsquit. The last two later became known as the Draney Fisheries.
In 1912 Mr. Draney retired and lived for some time in Vancouver, where he became well known. About ten years ago he became interested in farming in the Fraser Valley and bought a ranch at Murrayville, Killarney.

Earl of Wilton Died in London

London, Oct. 13 (Canadian Press
Cable).—The Earl of Wilton (Seymour Edward Frederick Egerton) died today. He was thirty-two years old.
He succeeded to the title in 1915.
In 1917 the Earl of Wilton married Brenda, daughter of Sir William Petersen, chairman of Petersen & Company, shipowners, London, who died in Ottawa, June 12, 1925. One son and one daughter were born to them.
The Wilton family have been prominent patrons of horse racing for generations and the late Earl was reputed one of the most sensational plungers on horse races known on the turf in years.

Aviator and Capt. G. Haldeman at Azores

RUTH ELDER HAS MESSAGE FROM AVIATRIX IN U.S.

Old Orchard, Maine, Oct. 13.—Mrs.
Frances Grayson was standing on the wind-swept beach near her beloved plane today when word came that Ruth Elder and George Haldeman were safe.
"The minute I heard Miss Elder was safe I cried her: 'Congratulations.'
My prayers followed you," she said. "I did not know at that time that she had been forced down on the sea or I would have sent double congratulations for her escape from that danger."
Mrs. Grayson has been planning a transatlantic flight.

Atlantic Plane Rides Out Gale

"Dawn," Mrs. Grayson's Aircraft, Caught by Sea on Maine Coast

Amphibian Machine Prepared For Flight From U.S. to Copenhagen

Old Orchard, Maine, Oct. 13.—The Sikorsky amphibian aeroplane the "Dawn" showed its seaworthiness today when after two hours of buff-eting by the surf it emerged from the receding tide undamaged.
The position of the "Dawn," which had been groomed for a flight to Copenhagen, became precarious shortly before noon, when a record tide, with the added impetus of a southeast gale, reached out to engulf the plane, resting on the sands well above the normal highwater mark.

The "Dawn" is Mrs. Frances Gray-son's plane.
MOTOR TROUBLE
Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 13.—The Junkers aeroplane D-1230 hopped off this morning with the intention of proceeding to the Azores en route to Copenhagen, but it later landed as one engine was giving trouble.

EARLY START ON HOSPITAL WING

Handsomeness New Addition to St. Joseph's Hospital Will Get Under Way Shortly

One of the largest individual building contracts of the year, the new
"L" shaped wing to be erected at St.
Joseph's Hospital, is expected to be announced shortly, leading a heavy fall building programme in the city.
A number of bids were received on the plans, and are now under consideration at Montreal, whence definite announcement as to the letting of the contract is expected within the course of a few days.

C. Elwood Watkins, architect who designed the plans for the new additional wing in the neighborhood of $300,000. It will contain the latest in scientific equipment in the X-ray and other departments, and will include elaborate and up-to-date maternity accommodation, as well as in the neighborhood of 100 additional beds.
Alterations to the present building will be carried out after the completion of the new wing to make the best use of the space released by the removal of several departments to the new building. The new structure will be handsome in design with extensive provision for solarium work, including an open air roof garden.

The hospital contract will drive city building figures to the $1,500,000 mark it is expected, in a high year of building progress.

Woman Attempts To Swim Across English Channel

Cape Gris Nez, Oct. 13.—Determined to add her name to the list of women who have conquered the English Channel, Mrs. Ivy Gill of Sheffield, England, started a channel swim at 9.11 o'clock this morning. The weather was unfavorable.
After two hours Mrs. Gill was about three miles out.

London, Oct. 13.—A radio message received from the Dutch oil tanker Barendrecht, relayed by the British steamship Bayona to the Devizes radio station, telling of the rescue of Ruth Elder and Capt.
George Haldeman, New York-Paris fliers, reads:
"Saved crew of the flying engine
NX-1384 from New York to Paris.
Both well. Engine destroyed by fire while saving. Trying to land both at the Azores. Position 43.34 North, 21.39 West."
(The word engine was evidently used in place of aeroplane.)

London, Oct. 13.—The position of the Dutch steamship Barendrecht, which picked up Ruth Elder and George Haldeman in the New York-Paris monoplane American Girl, is given in a radio message as about 350 miles northwest of the Azores.

OIL PIPE BROKE

Paris, Oct. 13.—A message to the Paris office of the Associated Press received this afternoon from Miss Ruth Elder, the aviatix, told of her plane having alighted at sea beside the Dutch steamship Barendrecht.

The message, which said she and Capt. George Haldeman were OK, stated the landing of the American Girl while en route to Paris from New York, has been caused by a broken oil line.

MESSAGE RELAYED

The message, which did not give the position of the tanker, was received at

IDENTIFICATION FIGHT PROCEEDS IN EGGERS CASE

No Witness Connects Him With Pender Island Piracy, Says Defence Counsel

Following evidence by several witnesses, telling a complete story of the hi-jacking of the Hadel with a $4,000 liquor cargo by four masked men who had previously seized the launch Kyak, which was to secure the 292 cases the Hadel carried, counsel at the assizes yesterday afternoon battled on the point of identity of Milo Eggers as one of the four armed masked men alleged to have participated in the Pender Island robbery in March, 1924.

Not one of the witnesses would definitely identify the man in the dock on a charge of robbery with violence as one of the men as counsel fired questions at them.

Tense silence prevailed throughout the courtroom as the question of identity of Eggers as the man who took the mask from his face was approached, when Andrew Martin, Seattle carpenter, and ex-convict runner on the Kyak was on the stand.

"Are you able to identify the man whose mask was taken off because of dirt in his eye?"

"The man in the dock is the one I identified in Tacoma."

The judge: "It is not the man you identified in Tacoma; it is the man you identify now."

"Can you identify the man to-day?" witness asked. "Well, I cannot definitely say."

Witness was asked to look around the courtroom to see if he could see the man and said he could see no one he could definitely identify as the man.

Mr. Johnson said he did not wish to cast any aspersions on the veracity of this witness and proceeded to refer to evidence at the preliminary hearing.

"I cannot say anything in this man's demeanor to say he is an adverse witness," the judge commented.

"Look at the accused and tell me if to the best of your recollection he in any way resembles the man you saw on the Hadel on March 4 with his mask off and his mask on," ordered Crown counsel.

"Well, he is a light-complexioned man," replied witness.

"What do you say as to the corresponding height of the man compared with the build of the accused?"

"To the best of my recollection he was a heavier man."

"What do you say as to height?"

"This man here is a little shorter."

"Can you find points of similarity between this man and the one you saw on the launch?" asked Mr. Johnson. The question was overruled.

TOO ILL TO ATTEND

Evidence of Joe Edwards, the other man on the Kyak, was read to the jury after Provincial Constable Robert Marshall had testified that he had seen Edwards in Seattle, found him ill and not prepared to attend the trial. He, too, failed to definitely identify Eggers.

Einar Larum, the pilot of the Hadel, concluded his evidence by the time the court adjourned for lunch. No questions were put to him by counsel for Eggers.

On the evening of the Hadel, Larum's partner on the witness stand, told a similar story of carrying 292 cases of Scotch whisky to Peter's Cove, Pender Island, to be landed there and picked up by the Kyak.

He told how on approaching to within fifty yards of the Kyak they heard shooting and shouting at the same time.

Four masked men with revolvers and rifles appeared on deck. They fired on the Hadel and Larum fell from the steering platform," said witness.

"I shouted to them to stop shooting and they did. In the meantime the engine stopped and they shouted to me to start the engine, but before I did that the launches drifted together and they boarded the Hadel. Larum was helped on board the Kyak. One of the men ordered witness aboard the Kyak. The Hadel cleared off towards the American side and a few minutes after it left Martin appeared with his hands tied. A little later Andrews appeared. When the Hadel had been gone some time the men on

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, October 13, 1902.

A telegram to N. P. Shaw & Company from Port Eslington this morning conveys the news that the steamer Venture is ashore on the rocks off Tugwell Island and is leaking badly.

The last steamer from the lower Yukon for the season arrived at Dawson September 26. It was the Pacific Cold Storage Company's steamer Robert Kerr, laden with fresh meats.

C. E. Renouf, appraiser of customs at Dawson, was a passenger on the steamer Amur arriving from the North yesterday.

Weather, Forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Light or moderate winds, chilly-fair and cooler, with fog.

Frank Sehl had occasion to kill a chicken on Saturday, and when the fowl was being prepared for the oven a two-inch nail was found lodged in its gullet.

The Kyak started the engines and subsequently went to Sidney.

COULD NOT IDENTIFY THEM
The men were roughly dressed, wearing caps. He did not see enough of their faces to be able to tell any of them.

Jacob Welstead, fisherman, Vancouver, and a partner with Larum in the Hadel, told of searching for the missing launch and finding her on the rocks at Sidney all crunched up and looking like a wreck. He counted seventeen holes in her.

Cross-examined by Mr. Russell, witness said he received word of his partner's injury by telegraph and notified the Consolidated Liquor Company. It was their liquor they were freighting, he said, but differed with counsel when he spoke of it as smuggling.

"You knew it was to be smuggled into the United States," asked counsel. "We didn't smuggle it," said witness.

Witness was asked to give police court evidence as to whether he laid the information on guesswork and after much argument on the point by counsel the jury returned a verdict against the parties named in consequence of information received.

Andrew Martin, carpenter, Seattle, said in addition to his trade as a carpenter, he ran whisky from British Columbia to Seattle in 1924. He told of the arrival of the Kyak at Pender Island on March 3, 1924, to pick up the load of the Hadel, demanded food, and then tied the two of them up.

ROUGHLY DRESSED
The men were roughly dressed in overalls. They had revolvers in their hands. Three of them were masked with handkerchiefs. One of them removed his mask, saying he had dirt in his eye. This man rested on a cot and witness had good opportunity of observing him. He had a fair complexion, had blue eyes and was about five feet ten inches tall.

Some time after the two men on the Kyak had been tied their bonds were untied, said witness, but on the approach of the Hadel the following morning they were tied again. Witness was ordered to show himself twice to the crew of the Hadel, then ordered to the cabin.

From this point witness's story of the first on the Hadel, wound up. Larum and seizing of the cargo was the same as that of previous witnesses.

Evidence of Inspector Crutchank, who presented the extradition order to Canada for trial and of Kenneth Johnson, who was running the Kyak, was read to the jury. He told of seeing the Hadel after the hijacking, closed the case for the Crown.

THE DEFENCE
Chris Olsen, wholesale fish dealer of Seattle, was the first witness called for the defence. Milo Eggers was employed by him, he said, for repacking fish. He was employed by him in March, 1924, and on March 4 Eggers was working for him as shown by a receipt Eggers signed.

Cross-examined by Mr. Johnson, witness said it was possible Eggers could have been the man who was seen several days before he was paid. But he insisted it was his experience that all men working for him on piece-work came to him as soon as their job was finished for the day.

Receipts were not always demanded, but the fish in this case, which accused repacked, called for a receipt and reference to it, as it had been in his hands for two years.

The second defence witness called was Harold P. Finch, secretary-treasurer of the case for the defence. He was the president. Witness said he traveled with his wife to California in the middle of January, 1924, and returned to Seattle on March 3, 1924. This date, he said, was noted in his diary of the said trip. He believed that he telephoned his office on March 4, 1924, saying, "I'll be down after a bit." He thought he visited his office on March 4, although he didn't return to work until a day or so later.

MILO WORKS FOR FIRM
Finch told the court that Eggers had been employed in his firm for a considerable period handling and grading fish. Milo, he affirmed, under cross-examination, was not always at his premises, but had been away from the city on the day which was in question.

Also, Milo at times had done some work for other concerns in Seattle.

Crown Prosecutor Johnson: "Have you any definite recollection, Mr. Finch, of going to your office on March 4, 1924?"

"No," responded witness.

The jury trying the case is composed of Frederick Charles Cox, foreman, and John M. Mutch, James Baney, James Carmichael, James Henry Cardwell, George Stanley Eden, William Madison Caley, William Francis Drinkie, William Laurison, Henry Kenyon, John Nielson and Frederick William Spedding.

Colwood
There was an excellent gathering Tuesday night at the Colwood hall, the occasion being the annual harvest home celebration. Frank Merryfield, the Cornish musician, assisted by his daughter, Miss Violet Merryfield, entertained the gathering with some clever tricks and illusions.

Fruit and vegetables which had been donated by the residents of the district were auctioned, the proceeds being in aid of the general funds of St. John's Church. The Rev. H. B. Allen, assisted by Capt. F. J. Macdonald, Parker, Forman, Little, Meadows, Burgess, Goodall, Brown and the Misses Scott, I. Peatt, G. Robinson, O. Walsh and others.

NEW HORSE DEAL WILL DEPEND ON RUSSIAN PRICES

B.C. Ranchers Unwilling to Sell Unless Returns Are Satisfactory

Whether Russia will place an order for some 400 horses in British Columbia this fall or not will depend upon the price which the Soviet Government is willing to pay, it was indicated at the Department of Agriculture after a conference between Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, and Louis Kon, Russian representative.

It was explained that unless the Russians are prepared to pay a satisfactory price British Columbia ranchers will hardly be willing to round up horses at considerable expense.

It was also stated that the buyers are extremely particular about their purchases.

If the buyers are willing to give the ranch men a satisfactory price, the round-up will follow and the shipment will be made.

As the Russians had intended previously to go to the Canadian prairies for the remainder of the horses which they wanted to secure this fall, their overtures here are taken as an indication that they have been unable to fulfill all their demands elsewhere.

TORIES HEAR MORE TALK OF SPLIT IN THEIR RANKS HERE

Bowser Men Indicate They Will Fight For New Ticket at Convention

New indications that there will be a vigorous fight for Conservative nominations in Victoria at the next provincial election, appeared at the annual meeting of the McBride Conservative Club last night.

While P. J. Sinnott, leading local supporter of W. J. Bowser, K.C., was re-elected president of this organization, speakers at the meeting intimated plainly that the present Victoria Conservative members of the Legislature would not be re-nominated without a battle in the nominating convention.

Even warnings that a split over the Bowser nomination, he said, would be a serious matter for the party did not serve to silence the Conservatives who are determined to launch a new ticket.

T. G. Coventry, M.P.P. for Saanich, warned the meeting against disunity in the party, declaring it would be ruinous to carry out enough. If the present Victoria members were rejected by the nominating convention, he said, they might run as independent in competition with the regularly-chosen ticket.

After supper Rev. H. M. Bolton opened an attractive programme of entertainment with a few introductory remarks, which were followed by a short talk by H. C. Heigsen, a well-known old-time settler, who contrasted present day conditions with those of the old days, and a talk on "Former Days in Metochosin" by the Rev. A. E. de L. Nunna, a former vicar of the parish of Metochosin and Sooke. Songs were pleasingly rendered by Mrs. Pennington and Mrs. F. A. Pearce, and vocal duets by Major and Mrs. Pennington and Major Pennington and Mrs. Pearce.

NO RAILROADING
The McBride Club and Conservatives generally should be more concerned about the propriety of the election than about leadership squabbles, said Capt. R. P. Matheson. "We should show the people how we would rectify conditions if elected to power," he urged.

He added significantly that no one was going to be "buffaloed" in the selection of candidates just because of a handful of independent might be in the field.

D. B. Plunkett, ex-president of the Victoria Conservative Association, referred to the recent row in that organization by referring to H. D. Twigg's celebrated letter, in which the Victoria member charged that officers of the association are disloyal to Hon. S. F. Tolmie.

He added that he was not a member of the association and was not going to be "buffaloed" in the selection of candidates just because of a handful of independent might be in the field.

"Is it not a peculiar thing," Mr. Plunkett asked, "that such a letter should come from a man never heard of in the ranks of Victoria Conservatives until he came with hat in hand seeking nomination?"

"Perhaps," he added, "if the opportunity had been given him he might have been a Liberal. I am out of the chair to-night and I want to register a protest against that man."

IS NOT AFRAID
Mr. Plunkett said the Conservative candidates should win their nominations fairly and squarely at the convention and then the party would get solidly behind them. He did not propose to be bludgeoned by threats that independents might appear in the field, he said.

Mr. Coventry explained that he did not intend to threaten anyone in his statements. He said he was not a member of the association, but he might run as an independent, adding that it was their business and he did not know what they should do.

There should be no talk of independents, Leonard Tait protested. The members should seek nomination at the convention where everything would be fair and above board. One member of the association, he said, evidently referring to Mr. Twigg, had proposed to commit political suicide, and had provided such an example of cool impertinence as he had never seen before.

NEW OFFICERS
With Mr. Sinnott as president, George A. Watters was re-elected vice-president, treasurer. The executive was chosen as follows: Mrs. S. Conacher, Capt. A. A. Watters, secretary, and O. J. Capt. R. P. Matheson, A. Lancaster,

And its flavour is so delicious that everyone will take it gratefully.

C. R. Fawcett, J. E. Cass and Charles Esley.

A Lancaster moved that the press be requested not to print a description of the part of the meeting that had been controversial. E. Impey seconded the motion, whereupon O. J. Boulton moved an amendment to nullify its effect. Nothing had been said at the meeting of which the club should be ashamed, Mr. Boulton declared. Capt. Watt seconded the amendment which was carried.

OLD-TIME HARVEST HOME AT METCHOSIN

Metochosin, Oct. 13.—Old-time memories were most pleasantly recalled and revived Tuesday evening when the Metochosin Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity by a merry crowd of people, including many of the old-time settlers and most of the new, who sat down together to partake of a most bountiful harvest supper. The tables were decorated with daisies and other bright autumn flowers and beautiful fruit.

After supper Rev. H. M. Bolton opened an attractive programme of entertainment with a few introductory remarks, which were followed by a short talk by H. C. Heigsen, a well-known old-time settler, who contrasted present day conditions with those of the old days, and a talk on "Former Days in Metochosin" by the Rev. A. E. de L. Nunna, a former vicar of the parish of Metochosin and Sooke. Songs were pleasingly rendered by Mrs. Pennington and Mrs. F. A. Pearce, and vocal duets by Major and Mrs. Pennington and Major Pennington and Mrs. Pearce.

Comic selection by the Original Cornfield Quartet, in costumes as scarecrows, brought down the house, and songs by W. G. Milsted were also enjoyed. Recitation by Mrs. P. Prudd and a monologue by E. P. Ashe gave much pleasure and amusement, the entertainment being greatly enjoyed by the large gathering, as was testified by hearty applause and repeated calls for encore. Mrs. E. E. Bradford made an efficient and finished accompanist.

A vote of thanks to all those who had helped to make the occasion so successful was proposed by A. D. Ellwood and seconded in a very humorous little speech by Dr. C. P. Brown of William Head, after which everyone turned in to help and tables were cleared and dancing enjoyed to the strains of Eric Walker's orchestra.

The committee in charge thanked the young girls who so willingly helped to wait upon the guests, and all others who gave their services in diverse ways, also they gratefully acknowledge donations from the following firms, which were generously made through the medium of the Metochosin General Store: Kelly Douglas & Co., Wilson Bros., A. E. Slade & Co., B. Wilson Co. Ltd., Central Creameries Ltd., Swift Canadian Co., Canadian Bakeries Ltd. and Columbia Paper Co. Ltd.

The financial returns were most satisfactory and gratifying. The wardens' reports that a sum of approximately $140 will be available for parish expenses as a result of the delightful entertainment.

LUXTON AND HAPPY VALLEY
In February last Mr. Partridge, a partner in the firm of Caton & Partridge, sanitary and heating engineers of Winnipeg, Manitoba, was advised to take a trip to Vancouver by a Winnipeg doctor to recuperate his health, and he came and toured Vancouver Island, from Nanaimo. When he arrived at Glen Lake he was so delighted with the climate and the scenery that he stayed for the greater part of his holiday on returning to Winnipeg he described the beauties of the place in such glowing terms and gave such a delightful account of his trip and stay on Vancouver Island, that he lost his partner, Mr. Caton, who is now firmly established with his wife and family at "The Green Gate," Glen Lake.

The annual harvest thanksgiving service was held last Sunday in the Reformed Episcopal Church at Happy Valley, where there was an excellent attendance. The church had been beautifully decorated by a committee composed of Mrs. R. Brown, Mrs. Bachelier, Mrs. Hutchison, Mrs. Richards and Mr. Taylor, the material for the decorations being generously supplied by the people of the district, and included some splendid sheaves of grain sent by Messrs. Field Bros. The

"My face broke out with pimples and sore eruptions. They did not break out much until about six months ago when suddenly they became large and red, and I could not sleep at night for the terrible itching and burning. I could not go out; my face was awful."

"My mother read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and when I had used three cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Basil Lee, 60 Garsington St., London, Oct. 1, 1925.

The material used to decorate the church will be sent to the Church of Our Lord, Victoria, to be used to decorate for their own harvest thanksgiving service. The Rev. de B. ## Waits 15 Years To Eat Fried Onions

"For 15 years everything I ate turned sour in my stomach. Even a drink of water often made me sick. I suffered from gas and had dizzy spells all the time. It was common for me to go for days without a bowel movement. But since taking Alderika, I feel like a new woman. I eat anything I want now, even fried onions. I sleep better and my nervousness is almost all gone. My weight has increased 18 pounds. Now I do all my own housework and life is worth living again. In my case Alderika has been wonderful."—Mrs. L. L. Branton.

As gently and naturally as taking a drink of water, Alderika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels, bringing quick relief from gas bloating, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY.
Dr. R. Louis Shoub, New York, states: "Alderika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing action, tends to check the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. J. Lancaster, a physician of over a quarter century's experience, says: "In the treatment of gastro-intestinal disorders, Alderika has no equal."

J. E. Puckett, writes: "After using Alderika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. Carl Weschke, graduate of Heidelberg University, Germany, first perfected Alderika. It is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser known to science with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements.

Many physicians recognize Alderika as the one dependable remedy for gas, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation. Unlike most medicines it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel.

Even if your bowels move every day, Alderika may bring out poisonous gas-forming matter which you would never believe was in your system.

No matter what you have tried for the bowels and stomach, Alderika will surprise you.

CHOICE OF BENNETT WAS FORESEEN AT TORY CONVENTION

Not Much Doubt About Conservative Leadership After Meighen-Ferguson Contest
Closing Scenes at Winnipeg Convention Described by Correspondent

Special to The Times
Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Hon. R. B. Bennett is the new leader of the Conservative Party of Canada by two votes in a ballot of 1,554. Arising to address the convention after his election yesterday afternoon, he seemed to be at a loss for words. He began slowly, but soon warmed up and at the close of his speech of thanks and acceptance was going with a win.

SEVERAL SURPRISES
The result of the convention was not a surprise. That is not to say that the actual process by which it was arrived at did not hold surprises. For example, observers did not expect the second ballot to produce the required result. Observers did not think Sir Henry Drayton would poll a handful of votes only on the first ballot, despite the vanderbilt turn on a speech Tuesday night, nor did they think C. H. Cahan would pool so many votes on the first count and lose so few on the second. But on the whole there had not been much of the result since the afternoon of Monday, when the Meighen-Ferguson scrap entirely eliminated the latter, and his influence with all but Ontario, and made it sure Mr. Meighen could have been nominated had he wanted it.

TWO SECRETS
Well, the party has Mr. Bennett and his millions, and they are to be devoted to the cause of Conservatism, and something seems to indicate that the new leader of the Opposition will have to employ a couple of secretaries to answer requests from people who would spend the rest of the couple of thousand or so on something they are sure would redound to the pocket of the Grand Old Party in their riding. In fact the cheers which greeted the announcement that Bennett would have to divest himself of the interests which through the grace of Providence and the aid of hard work he had not into were not altogether the result of an appreciation of altruism. Something, perhaps a quite unworthy something, seemed to whisper that it meant the jackpot would never lack for an ante.

THE PLATFORM
Then there is the platform. Newspaper readers have been told something about how that platform was given to the convention on Tuesday. Yesterday it was even more so. "The resolutions committee," said Chairman Beaubien, "has sent down a recommendation, urging the completion at once of the Hudson Bay Railway. This has always been a principle of the party. Shall we call the resolution carried?" Carried! Bang went the gavel. So with the Crow's Nest grain rates—carried—and the railway from the Peace River district to the Pacific Coast—carried—and the chairman had carried another resolution dealing with Federal aid to provincial highways when a protest came to the platform, and "in order to be entirely fair" it was proposed to hear a speaker who wanted a concrete road from Halifax to Vancouver built by the Federal Government. Minister of Highways Black from Nova Scotia squelched this and it died.

PRAIRIE RESOURCES
It looked as though the natural resources resolution, which would have the three prairie provinces get back their natural resources and a financial end to decide the financial details thereof, would have gone through in

"Very Rich"

"I first tried half fresh and half Pacific Milk in a cake. It was too rich. A second trial, less butter, did not taste right. I tried again, reduced Pacific Milk to one part Pacific against three parts fresh milk. It gave what I wanted. But I had found that Pacific Milk is very rich."—From Mrs. McDonald's letter referred to Saturday.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food poisons, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist pure Bismarck Malt and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Malt (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of malt for stomach purpose. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. (Adv.)

the same way had not the floor of the convention decided there was a limit to all things. And so there was a debate—a first-class debate which lasted a couple of hours on the subject, featured by perhaps the most eloquent spell-binding of the convention from Armand Lavergne of Quebec, a vigorous outpouring of practical politics from M. Gauthier of Quebec and some earnest pleading from Senator Sir George Foster, also a characteristic speech in the process from T. Le Church, M.P. for ten minutes to an entirely different resolution and was either too deaf or too dull to understand he was discussing the Empire relation resolution in which the convention was discussing natural resources. In the end came the passage of an amendment which calls for the school lands trust funds, when turned over to the provinces, to be administered by them for school purposes and not, as Mr. Cahan said, for radios or other frills.

The passage of this amendment was greeted with loud cheers from Quebec and Ontario, and by every evidence of displeasure from Mr. Bagshaw and Mr. Mackinnon of Saskatchewan and others. It was announced that the idea of this convention was to be of some aid and comfort to the Western provinces. One wonders in retrospect—though retrospect of only a brief interval—whether the last analysis it has not been of more aid and comfort to Quebec.

IN BOTH LANGUAGES
Certainly they are satisfied with the school land resolution. Certainly they got through with it. The platform from time to time to give them a chance to vent their feelings. How much headway the new leader will make as a result of this visit remains to be seen. But at least the great mass of the Conservative Party in Ontario and points west know there are thoroughly presentable Canadians speaking French to Quebec. "The time has come," said Mr. Lavergne, "to need consideration. It may have come home to some of them that all of the French-speaking delegates who were on the platform seemed quite capable of addressing themselves to the gathering in both languages, a procedure which very few of the English-speaking ones seemed able to avail themselves of. And while the traditions of the province forbade the implication that all the Quebec delegates were fully at home in English, the chances are that this is probably the case, which is something they may not unprofitably be reflected upon."

IMMIGRATION RESOLUTION
So it is all over. After the final cheering for the leader had quieted down, while the throngs were getting ready to swarm on the platform and shake the hand of the newly chosen of the people, Sir George Foster again pleaded for the exclusion of Orientals as outlined in the immigration resolution in less emphatic and distinct terms, but the convention was quite happy in letting British Columbia put things the way it felt them, and so Sir George lost the National Anthem was the final incident—the war horse of the eighties swept aside by the vigorous determination of the West.

The first ballot for the leader at the Conservative convention yesterday gave the following results: Bennett 694, Rogers 114, Guthrie 345, Manion 170, Drayton 21, Cahan 310. Total votes cast, 1,554.

On the second ballot the votes were divided as follows: Bennett 780, Guthrie 320, Cahan 266, Manion 148, Rogers 37, Drayton 3. Total, 1,554.

To secure election Mr. Bennett needed to have 778 votes. He actually secured 780.

Afterwards, on motion of Hon. Hugh Guthrie and C. H. Cahan, the election was made unanimous.

SPEECH BY BENNETT

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Hon. R. B. Bennett, M.P., addressing the Conservative National Convention here yesterday afternoon after his election as Federal Conservative leader, said men occasionally attended some great religious edifice for the purpose of renouncing many things and in order to be consecrated to a life service. The feeling might be different about a meeting of this nature, but Mr. Bennett felt the delegates had endeavored to set him aside for a life of service to Canada.

TO RESIGN DIRECTORATES
Mr. Bennett stated his election to the leadership involved his renunciation of things he had held most dear in the past.

"The things I must now put behind me for no man can serve two masters," he said. "You have told me to devote what talents and qualifications I possess in the interests of the party, which I will now be privileged to lead."

It was true, Mr. Bennett continued, that he was a man of considerable wealth—wealth accumulated through capitalized opportunities on the great Western plains. No man, he said, could serve satisfactorily with pecuniary obligations hovering over his head. In this respect, he said, he could serve the country without fear.

Canada's future, he declared, must be one of unlimited expansion and increased prestige among the nations of the world. He believed there was a great opportunity for the Conservative Party to act as an instrument in bringing the right policies into being in the country.

TORIES WOULD BAR ASIATIC MIGRANTS

Conservative National Convention Calls on Canada to Exclude Orientals

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—The Conservative Party of Canada is on record as favoring Oriental exclusion. A resolution on immigration adopted by a very large majority shortly before the National Conservatives Convention here concluded its business yesterday, contains a clause making that declaration. On Tuesday the original resolution was sent back to the drafting committee with instructions that the clause calling for exclusion of Orientals be changed. The spokesman of the committee in reporting back to the convention yesterday declared it had been unanimously agreed to submit the resolution without any alteration.

Senator Sir George Foster moved an amendment, seconded by Sir James Aikens of Winnipeg, that the resolution be not accepted in the form presented. He proposed to go on record: "That Canada possesses, and should continue to be the sole judge of who she would admit, yet that the exclusion should when exercised be on ground of ability to assimilate, and not on national or religious grounds."

STEVENS SPEAKS
Hon. H. H. Stevens, British Columbia, denied the resolution was as represented by Sir George. He pointed out that all Canada asked was the same right as Australia, New Zealand and South Africa had exercised for years. The United States had an absolute exclusion law which seemed to be no barrier to trade.

Congratulations Sent To Hon. R. B. Bennett By Premier King

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—Premier King last evening sent the following telegram to Hon. R. B. Bennett, M.P., who yesterday afternoon at the convention at Winnipeg, was chosen Federal Conservative leader:

"I have just learned of your selection as leader of the Conservative Party of Canada and desire to tender to you very hearty congratulations on the confidence thus expressed in you by the members of your party, and on the distinguished honor which they have conferred upon you."

The telegram bore the Prime Minister's signature.

TERRITORY FOR VATICAN URGED

Cardinal O'Donnell Is Ill in Ireland

Belfast, Oct. 13.—Cardinal O'Donnell, Primate of Ireland, who is suffering from pneumonia, was improved in strength this morning after a severe attack during the night, according to a bulletin issued at Carlingford at noon.

To-day was the seventh of Cardinal's illness. He is seventy-one years old.

WARM IN CALIFORNIA
San Francisco, Oct. 13.—San Franciscans shed their vests and mopped their brows and called on the weather man yesterday for information on the high temperature. The weather bureau replied the mercury hit the 85.9 mark at 2 p.m., the highest October temperature since 1917, when 96 degrees was recorded. The nearest to this was in October, 1925, when the temperature was up to 85 degrees.

Meighen Sends Message to the Premier of Quebec

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen last night replied to a telegram received from Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec. In his message to the Quebec Premier, Mr. Meighen said:

"Answering only inquiry in your telegram, am advising you I left for North Carolina on night of making Hamilton speech, remaining there something over a week."

"Having answered all your questions, will you not now answer mine instead of evading with irrelevant comment about discord between provinces? Glad you are publishing telegrams in addition to the Ministry of Commerce, while Hon. James Fitzgerald Kenney becomes Minister of Justice."

CABINET CHANGES
Dublin, Oct. 13.—President Cosgrave, re-elected as chief executive of the Irish Free State Council in the Dail last night, made few changes in his new Ministry, which he organized yesterday. The changes give the Hon. Ernest Blythe the postmaster-generalship, as well as the portfolio of Finance Minister. Hon. Patrick McGilligan takes over the Internal Affairs Ministry in addition to the Ministry of Commerce, while Hon. James Fitzgerald Kenney becomes Minister of Justice.

THE NEW CONSERVATIVE LEADER

TO MANY POLITICAL OBSERVERS the appointment of the Honorable R. B. Bennett as leader of the Conservative Party of Canada appeared to be inevitable from the moment of Mr. Meighen's resignation. To some it seemed inevitable even before Mr. Meighen retired. Prior to the last general election The Times predicted a Conservative defeat which would involve the resignation of the then party leader and the selection of Mr. Bennett in his place. This expectation, as far as the member from Calgary was concerned, was based upon his growing ascendancy in the councils of his party and in Parliament, his exceptional talents as a speaker, his strength of character, and his intimate association with powerful financial interests which naturally were likely to direct their influence in his favor when the question of leadership arose. Certainly, scanning the list of candidates presented at the convention in Winnipeg, it was hard to see any other outcome of the election. Mr. Guthrie, even if he were qualified on other grounds, was too recent an immigrant from the Liberal Party to suit many of the delegates. A similar disqualification stood in the way of Dr. Manion. Mr. Cahan is a Montreal man and therefore was not likely to have much support from the western provinces as against a western man.

Mr. Bennett should be a much more effective leader than Mr. Meighen proved to be. While by no means an abler debater than his predecessor, he has important qualifications which Mr. Meighen lacks. He has shown himself to be a strong political fighter, but never has he been charged with the pettiness or the bitterness which often characterized Mr. Meighen. Nor is he likely to lead his party into as many political swamps as his predecessor did. Mr. Bennett is gifted with an unusual fluency of language which on certain occasions is apt to be dangerous, but we doubt if it ever will trap him into such an unfortunate utterance as Mr. Meighen's Hamilton speech.

Mr. Bennett on more than one occasion has shown that he possesses a spirit of independence. It will be recalled that about ten years ago he kicked over the political traces when the Government he was elected to support was pressing through Parliament legislation under which the Dominion took over the Canadian Northern Railways and paid the promoters of that system ten million dollars. In that discussion Mr. Bennett's chief opponent was the Hon. Arthur Meighen, who was piloting the measure through the House.

The new Conservative leader was born in New Brunswick, a province that has contributed more than its share of outstanding public men to the Dominion, especially to the western part of it. He has been a resident of Calgary, however, for thirty years and is thoroughly familiar with the progress and potentialities of the great agricultural region which plays so determining a part in the economic life of the whole country. He has undergone some vicissitudes in his own constituency, having been defeated in 1921, after representing it for ten years. In the elections of 1925 and 1926 he was successful, and now has the distinction of being the only Conservative representative in the House of Commons from the Prairie Provinces out of a total of fifty-four.

No doubt our Conservative friends hope that under Mr. Bennett's leadership they will be able to break into that politically hostile fold. The convention, however, imposed upon him a heavy handicap in the form of a meaningless and evasive resolution on the tariff which will be nothing less than a ball and chain to him. The Prairie Provinces never will elect a Conservative majority as long as the Conservative Party stands for a protective tariff, no matter who the leader may be. This was the lesson Mr. Meighen, himself a western man, was destined to learn in several elections. The convention endeavored to strike a balance by passing resolutions favoring the construction of the Hudson's Bay Railway, which the Liberal Government already is building, minimum freight rates, encouraging agriculture and the return to the Prairie Provinces of their natural resources. But these are all secondary in importance to those provinces to the tariff, which most directly affects the farming population. It is realized, of course, that the convention could not have abandoned the policy of protection without provoking a sharp conflict which might have wrecked the party.

This will be one of Mr. Bennett's formidable problems. Another is presented by the province of Quebec in which there are only four Conservative members of the House of Commons out of sixty-five. The new leader probably will have the support of powerful financial interests in Montreal, but these invariably have supported the Conservative Party with very little general effect. So the problems in respect of Conservative representation from the Prairie Provinces and Quebec which proved too much for Mr. Meighen also confront Mr. Bennett, and it remains to be seen how he will endeavor to solve them in the face of the evident handicaps imposed upon him by his party. That he will make a strong effort to dispose of them is beyond question; but as long as the Conservative Party continues to champion the interests of a powerful sectional minority at the expense of the majority of the Canadian people, no political Moses can lead it out of the wilderness into the green fields of Canada.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN FLAG ISSUE

IT IS UNFORTUNATE THE FLAG QUESTION in South Africa is being aired on the hustings in such a bitter fashion. Obviously much is being said on both sides which is of an unsettling nature in more ways than one. At this distance it looks as if former Premier Smuts and some of his supporters are using the Government's proposal for a distinctive South African emblem as a political football.

Some time ago there may have been some ground for supposing that General Hertzog had sinister designs on the British connection. It is doubtful if he ever could have had his way; but he was openly in favor of cutting the painter and turning the Union into an independent state on republican lines. That was when he was in Opposition, before he went to the Imperial Conference, before the fruits of office had been gathered by him and his party. He has seen the light since then and there is no special reason to suppose that his desire to put South Africa in the same position as Australia, New Zealand, and Ireland in the matter of a flag implies any reservation of his new conception of the Union's responsibility to and position within the Britannic Commonwealth.

When the South African Parliament assembles shortly this question will be one of the paramount issues of the session. But the Government's attitude, in deference to what appears to be a substantial body of public opinion, seems to be one of willingness to meet any objections to its own proposals in a spirit of tolerance. The Minister of Justice intimates that the size of the shield containing the Union Jack need not be considered definitely settled. There is a prospect, therefore, that a referendum, which would involve bitter political and racial controversy, may be avoided by compromise.

As the High Commissioner for South Africa in London observed at Aberdeen yesterday, there is no Union Jack on Scotland's national symbol, yet nobody would ever call a Scotchman disloyal or suggest that Scottish people wanted to secede because they did not incorporate the Union Jack on their national flag. "It is exactly the same with us in South Africa," he emphasized. "What we, as the Dominion of South Africa, want, is a distinctive symbol."

It is a strange thing that there should be so much fuss over the desire of a self-governing nation within the British Commonwealth, about whose loyalty to the British connection there now is not the least question, to have a flag of its own as a rallying influence. If secession ever should be decided upon by any member of that Commonwealth, its flag would make little difference in the main. But, on the contrary, it is the freedom in such matters which the British system imparts that strengthens the family tie. It has succeeded in South Africa. Why suppose it would fail at this stage?

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

INDUSTRIAL PEACE

From The Hamilton Spectator

The growth of industrial peace in Britain provides reason for faith that the brave old land will yet surmount the huge difficulties in her path and rise supreme again as has been the record after previous wars. Given a quarter century of peace at home and abroad, this Empire will realize on the bright hopes of its best prophets and surpass the dreams of its most loyal subjects.

PIPES OF TO-DAY

From The Washington Post

A remarkable change has come over the pipe smoker within the last eight months. A year ago few people bought pipes costing more than $1, and they wanted them in leather-covered cases. To-day few dollar pipes are sold. Smokers want the very best briars, and the prices run ordinarily from $2 to $10. And no one wants a case.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES IN CANADA

Q. How many public libraries are there in Canada?
A. Canada has 570 public libraries with over 3,000,000 volumes. This represents only a little over a third of a book per capita for the entire population, although nearly 12,000,000 volumes were issued in 1926. In addition to these public libraries several of the provinces carry on an extensive traveling library programme.

YOUR BABY and MINE
 by MRS. MEYER ELDER

Mrs. Elder will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

BUTTERMILK FOR BABY
 "My baby is eight months old," writes Mrs. H. S. B. "and only weighs fourteen and one-half pounds." He was nursed for five months and then put on a formula of one quart buttermilk, cream from one quart of sweet milk, and three tablespoons of dark corn syrup. He gets orange juice and milk toast daily and is an exceptionally good baby. But why doesn't he gain? Don't advise me to give him more food, as he will only take from four to six ounces of his milk every three hours. Will cod liver oil make him fat? Do you think he needs it?"

Answer—Feed your baby only once in four hours. His appetite will improve. His formula is fine—but he gets only part of it. It is one thing to prepare the right amount, but in order to nourish the baby he has to take it. Give him six ounces, five times in the twenty-four hours, four times in the day-time and at ten at night. In addition give him cod liver oil (all babies should have it) and cereal, which is a fine fattener. I am sure you will find the feeding leaflet a help to you. Won't you send a self-addressed and stamped envelope and ask for it?

PRUNE JUICE
 There have been several requests recently for prune juice. Soak dried prunes overnight after washing well. Cook in same water until very tender, adding a small amount of sugar. Strain and give this juice to the baby. The older child may have the sieved pulp of the prune as well as the juice. Do not use too much water.

This department offers a leaflet on "Constipation" which any mother may have for a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Mothers who are nursing the baby should also have the leaflet on "Diet for the Nursing Mother" included with the constipation leaflet.

PRETTY WEDDING AT CENTENNIAL CHURCH

Miss May Thomas United in Marriage to Gordon H. E. Hartley

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Centennial Church, Victoria, Saturday evening, October 8, when the Rev. Mr. Westman united in marriage May Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas of Burnside Road, to Gordon H. E. Hartley, only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hartley, Marl-gold.

The bride, looking lovely in soft white satin covered with silver lace, and carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations, and wearing the traditional veil and orange blossom wreath, was given away in marriage by her father, she was attended as bridesmaid by her sister, Miss Dorothy Thomas, and a sister of the groom, Miss Louise Hartley, attired respectively in blue and pink georgette and carrying bouquets of asters. The groom was supported by Eddie Thomas as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Margold Hall, where the guests were regaled by the bride's mother, charmingly gowned in old rose satin, and assisted in receiving by the mother of the groom who was wearing a pretty blue tulle gown.

A handsome three-tiered wedding cake graced the table, and a number of beautiful gifts were on view to the guests, testifying to the esteem in which the young couple were held by their friends. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a white gold and sapphire brooch, and to the bridesmaid a pendant, and to the best man a white gold watch. The bride's gift to the groom was a gold-silver ring. The happy couple left amid a shower of good wishes on the midnight boat for the mainland. There they will spend their honeymoon touring various parts and places of interest. On returning they will make their home in Victoria.

MISS FLORENCE E. CULL BECOMES BRIDE OF ERNEST E. KINNEY

Christ Church Cathedral was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday evening, October 8, when at 8 o'clock the Very Rev. C. S. Qualington, Dean of Columbia, united in marriage Florence Elsie, youngest daughter of Mr. R. C. Cull and the late Mrs. Cull, to Mr. Ernest Edward Kinney, youngest son of Captain C. P. and Mrs. Kinney.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white headed georgette over Duchesse satin, her veil being of silk net, embroidered in silk and applied flower-decorated. Little Joyce and Joan Cull, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cull, and nieces of the bride, made pretty flower girls, dressed in pink and mauve crapes de Chine with bandeaux and large bows of tulle of the same shade. They carried baskets of pink and mauve cosmos, with tulle bows.

The church was prettily decorated with Autumn flowers by friends of the bride. Mr. Harold Davis presided at the organ.

A reception was held at the home of the groom, 1722 Bank Street, when the bride was assisted by Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. Wilkerson and Mrs. Michell in receiving the many guests.

The house decorations were bronze and yellow chrysanthemums in the drawing-room, and pale pink and rose in the dining-room. The three-tier wedding cake occupied the place of honor on the dining table, which was decorated with a large bowl of Ophelia roses surrounded with pink tulle and pink candles. The bride and groom, after the wedding cake, after which it was served by Mrs. W. Cull, refreshments being served by Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Michell and Mrs. Wilkerson.

Amid a shower of confetti the bride and groom left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, the bride wearing a two-piece dress of mostly blue, over which she wore a navy blue coat with moulton fur collar and cuffs, and hat en suite. They will reside in Victoria.

DISABLED VETERANS MAKING POPPIES FOR ARMISTICE

Red Cross Workshop Busy on Orders For Sale in Street—
November 5

The poppies which Victorians will wear on Saturday, November 5, in commemoration of the Armistice, will have a special significance this year as they are being made by the local Red Cross workshop. It is particularly appropriate that to men, too badly disabled by war service to enter the open labor market, should fall the task of fashioning the little scarlet flowers emblematic of the sacrifices made on the fields of Flanders, and it is hoped that their sale this year will be heavier than ever.

The veterans at the Red Cross workshop have made 50,000 of the smaller poppies and 15,000 of the larger ones, as well as a number of wreaths for use on memorials and in windows. A number of the poppies have already been sent away to various parts of Vancouver Island, and as far north as White Horse, Yukon Territory, where the I.O.D.E. is in charge of the Armistice arrangements.

The Armistice will be further observed on Sunday, November 6, by a veterans' parade, memorial services, both at the Royal Victoria Theatre and the Capitol, and other features appropriate to the occasion, but the Armistice Period Committee will not sponsor a poppy day ball on this anniversary.

Rev. W. H. Langston, vice-president, was in the chair, and his repeated attempts to have the recommendation passed were met with shouts of disapproval.

During this part of the discussion police were called in by the officials and took their places in the rear of the church.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Unusual and exciting scenes in which the ruling of the president and the vote of the majority were openly and continuously defied by the followers of Rev. T. T. Shields marked the opening session of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec in the Temple Baptist Church here last night.

For an hour the Shields group delayed the meeting, refusing to allow the business to proceed after they had been defeated. They called for "fair play and British justice" and "minority rights" and attempted to shout down speakers. Members mounted the platform and harangued the president, Rev. W. T. Graham.

Excitement was raised to fever heat when Rev. C. E. McLeod, secretary of the convention, pushed Rev. Mr. Loney of Hamilton, off the platform, and Shields demanded the president take cognizance of the fact.

The appointment of scrutineers was the bone of contention.

Finally three were named to represent the Shields group as scrutineers.

BENNETT CLOSING UP BUSINESS AFFAIRS

closely," he said. "He is broad-minded enough to see the interests of the whole country are looked after, and he will do a tremendous amount of good from the national standpoint."

Major-General A. D. McRae, M.P. for North Vancouver and general organizer of the convention, said he was delighted at the choice which had been made.

MANY MESSAGES

Throughout last night and early this morning telegrams and cables of congratulations from party followers, from former classmates, legal associates and others poured in. From New Brunswick, where he was born; from Nova Scotia, where he was educated; from Ontario and Quebec, where he has business associations; from points farther West, where he has practiced law for years, and from British statesmen and leaders of the bar in England congratulatory messages were received.

Mr. Bennett probably will devote the next three weeks to arranging his business and legal affairs.

At the hotel where he is registered, numerous Conservative stalwarts, several of whom were aspirants for the leadership at yesterday's meeting, personally called and congratulated the new chieftain and pledged their support.

Three of the unsuccessful aspirants in yesterday's contest for the leadership are still in Winnipeg, namely, Hon. Robert Rogers, who resides in Winnipeg; Hon. R. J. Manion and Sir Henry Drayton. Of the others, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Parliamentary Conservative leader, left for Ottawa; C. H. Cahan, M.P., Montreal, left for his home on morning trains.

Mr. Guthrie had no statement to make to the press before his departure.

DELEGATES DEPART

Party men are leaving the city as rapidly as they can make train and other arrangements. A number have already departed. Some of these who engaged in preparation for the convention, however, propose to rest for a few days, following the strenuous deliberations before taking trains for their homes.

REPLY TO PREMIER

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Replying to the message from Right Hon. Mackenzie King, congratulating him upon his election to the leadership of the Conservative Party of Canada, Hon. R. B. Bennett replied as follows to-day:

"Your message is highly appreciated. The generous acceptance of my election as leader of the Conservative Party by political opponents brings deep gratification to me and I will be our common endeavor to serve the interests of our country and maintain the high traditions of British parliamentary institutions."

OUR SERIAL STORY

"The Wife &amp; Co."

By LYLE HAMILTON

CHAPTER LVI

It was not from the gifted author, however, that Molly received her best tip on the handling of a husband. It was from Mr. Frazier, in the drawing-room of his home. He was sitting, as usual, in his chair, his legs sprawled before him, his hands loosely hooked together while he talked.

Molly had come to see him, after dinner—a dinner that she had taken at a lunch-counter downtown. "I know I oughtn't to disturb you," she said, when she took her seat, "but I need help—I'm all lost."

"Yes?" He drew his shaggy brows together. "You don't like me," she went on sadly. "But you do like Bob and maybe you'll help me for his sake."

"What makes you think that I don't like you?" he asked. His elbows were on the arms of his chair and his hands rested upon his lap, concealing the lower half of his face.

"Why, you told me to stay away from my office and said that I was a bad wife and—"

"Piffle," said he. "That's one of the notions that make women hard to get along with. When anybody doesn't agree perfectly with everything you think, and approve of everything you do, and bow and scrape and say 'how lovely' when you start anything, you consider that they're 'mad' at you, and 'have it in' for you and you hate 'em."

He swung his foot as he contemplated her over his intertwined fingers. "Women haven't been out in the world long enough to learn how to get along with people. It's a fact! Women and men are separate races—a woman isn't simply a man arranged in a different form. The two breeds are as distinct as negroes and Chinamen. A woman's mind doesn't act like a man's; her understanding isn't the same as a man's; her experience with life is mighty short. It has only been a little while since women were only beasts of burden, and they're having as hard a time growing into full-fledged civilized beings as the natives down in the South Sea. That's why they're making so many terrific blunders since men have let 'em paddle for themselves."

"Don't you hate me?" Molly asked. "Certainly not. You're a fairly good specimen of the breed—I've seen lots worse. But your mind is on yourself all the time—you never stop to wonder what's in the other person's thoughts, and whether he isn't more nearly right than you are, maybe. That's what's wrong with your married life."

Molly dug into the deep, soft rug with the toe of her shoe, thinking up the things he wanted to do, so he could do the things you wanted?" the man asked.

"Yes," she admitted. "I guess he did."

"What did you ever give up to please him?"

"She twisted her ring—the still unpaid-for engagement ring—upon her finger. "He never asked me to give anything up."

"So in that matter, he was kinder and better than you! Isn't that right?"

"It was hard to acknowledge that he was right," Molly said nothing, but continued to turn the ring around and around, watching the sparkles of light in the diamond.

"Did he ever want anything that you kept him from getting?" prodded Mr. Frazier.

She swallowed a lump that was rising in her throat. "Some clothes," she said. "And a radio before we were married. But that was so we could have money!"

"I suppose you didn't care for a radio, personally," he suggested. "She shook her head. "I didn't see why we should have one."

"Did you buy any clothes, after you told him not to buy any?"

"Yes," Molly turned her face away from him and appeared to be studying the tall Indian mantelpiece. "I bought a little dress."

"What were you going to do with the money you earned by working afternoons?"

Molly got out her handkerchief. "Buy some clothes," she touched her eyes with the little square of linen. "Why are you asking me these questions, Mr. Frazier? Don't you think I feel bad enough?"

His voice was more gentle as he answered. "I know you feel badly, but I'm trying to let you see how you look to an outsider. You asked me to help you—I'm trying to do it. You've been a sort of a house cat—asking to be entertained, and fed, and petted, and not giving one solitary thing in return. Even a cat will catch mice!"

The girl put down her handkerchief. "The lady I work for writes stories," she said, a tear trickling down her cheek, "and this lady told me I ought to try your best to make him happy. That's your job, as wife—and as a husband, that's his job, too, to make you happy. From what you tell me, he's doing his part, and you aren't doing yours. You and me—both are working at making Molly happy. That's one-sided, and it doesn't pan out."

He ran his fingers through his iron-grey hair, reflectively. "Take the matter of women cooking. A man doesn't want his wife to drudge for him, though he's willing to drudge for her, and usually is. But if she loves him enough, and they're poor, she'll do his cooking, and he'll make her eat—she'll work days and nights to make his food better than he could get any place else. See what I'm driving at?"

Molly nodded, uncertainly. "If she loves him really, and not selfishly," Mr. Frazier continued, "the thing that will make her happiest in this world is to succeed in making him happy. And she'll do anything she can, no matter how hard it is, to do it."

He got up, fished a cigar from his pocket, peeled a loose bit of tobacco-leaf from it, and applied a match. "That's why some women, homely as the dickens, sloppy housekeepers, everything that's unattractive to the outsider, still are darned successful wives. The secret is they love their husbands; the husbands know their wives are doing their level best to make them happy and the men appreciate it. That's what makes an honest-to-gosh home—two people that like each other, and are doing everything they can for each other. It means not saying cussed little things that hurt it means giving the other one the best of it, always; it means—well, it means a mighty different programme from the one you've followed, Molly Brownell!"

Inconsequently, Molly's mind hopped away from the subject at this point. She had been under a long strain, and she was not only unable to digest his more lectures—she was unable to listen.

"I thought your sister changed your furniture," said she.

Mr. Frazier's mouth opened. "Well, I'll be—!" he said. "I'll be blessed! What's my furniture got to do with your marriage troubles?"

"Nothing at all," she answered, rubbing the traces of tears from her face. "But Mrs. Potter told me she'd bought you some new things."

"She did," he said, with a short laugh. "I'm furnishing the chauffeur's rooms with the chairs and stools and china cabinets she sent over. He thinks they're great. But what made you wander away to that subject? Aren't you interested in what I was saying?"

"Yes, I am, but—" a new trickle of tears came from her eyes—"I feel as if my mind was all worn out. It's just stopped working. I've got to think about something else, I guess."

"She got up to go, and he sprang to his feet. Coming to her he took her hand in the kindest, possible way. "If I can help you at all, I want to do it. I'd be helping your husband, you see."

"Sit you like Bob better than you do me, don't you?" she asked, still with her fingers in his.

"Yes, I do," he said, without hesitation. He's earned it, and you haven't—yet!"

When she got to the street she found Mr. Frazier's car waiting for her, and the chauffeur, smiling, was holding the door open, a broad smile on his face. She climbed into the tonneau and, dropping back against the cushions, closed her eyes.

To Be Continued.

British Readers Told of Choice of Bennett as Leader

London, Oct. 13 (Canadian Press Cable)—The London morning papers go to press very early nowadays and in consequence they did not carry the news of the election of Hon. R. B. Bennett as leader of the Conservative Party of Canada, except in two or three instances in which the announcement was made in a couple of lines. The Conservative convention at Winnipeg was not given any special prominence in the newspapers here. Mr. Bennett, the new Conservative leader, has made many journeys to London, chiefly in the capacity of counsel in Canadian appeals heard by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, but he could scarcely be said to be well-known here generally.

Rebel Bands in Mexico Are Small

Mexico City, Oct. 13.—General Arriaga Gomez, rebel leader sought by Mexican Government troops in Vera Cruz State, is accompanied only by mountaineers, according to officers heading the 600 surrendered soldiers of

Gen. Hector Almadia's column who have arrived at Jalapa, capital of the state. No soldiers remained with Gomez after the defeat of his followers by federal forces in the western part of the state of Vera Cruz last Sunday, they declared.

The officers, Captain Julian Castrejon and Lieut. Prado, Blazquez, Aguilera and Alameda, claim they were ordered to leave the Mexico City garrison by General Almadia, who told them

General Roberto Cejudo had revolted in Vera Cruz State and should be fought. Almadia's deceit was not revealed, they asserted, until aeroplanes flying over the mountain region near Perote, where they were entrenched, dropped printed sheets reminding the soldiers of their duty. Thereupon they decided to surrender.

LENIENT TREATMENT

General Jesus Aguirre, who cooperated with General Gonzalo Escobar in the campaign against the rebels, declared the military aspect of the revolt had ended with the surrender of the major part of the troops headed by Gomez and Almadia. The troops, he said, would be treated leniently, as they had been deceived by their leaders.

The two leaders, he asserted, were left with only small groups of followers and these were fugitives who had engaged in marauding long before the outbreak of the military revolt. They are being pursued by federal troops.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Ward One Saanich Liberal Association will meet at Cedar Hill School on Monday, October 17, at 8 p.m.

The monthly meeting of the Victoria branch of the B.C. Goat Breeders' Association will be held Monday evening, October 17, at 8 o'clock, in the Y.M.C.A. building.

Victoria members of the Legislature, Reginald Hayward, Joshua Hinchcliffe, H. D. Twigg and Major Gus Lyons, yesterday telegraphed their congratulations to R. B. Bennett on his choice as leader of the Conservative Party in Canada.

To provide playing grounds in Burnside district the Saanich School Board last night accepted the proposal of the Municipal Council to provide one-half of $300 required to drain and surface a tract of reversioned land Burnside Road. Chairman Hobbs will represent the school board in supervising the work.

The annual meeting of the Victoria Radio Club will be held in the clubrooms, Dallas and Linden, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The election of officers for the coming year and reports on the radio show are the main features. All members are requested to attend.

Under the auspices of the Royal Oak Women's Institute the first of the Winter series of card parties, with a social evening, will be held at McMoran's Hall, Cordova Bay, Friday, October 14, at 8 p.m. Good prizes and refreshments will be provided followed by dancing. Court which will be the order of the evening.

Saanich delegates to the school trustees convention at Harrison Hot Springs, on October 17, 18 and 19, will be Chairman Frank V. Hobbs and Trustees Mrs. J. McNaught Beckett. Saanich will advocate a change in high school examination marking methods, whereby pupils with a high yearly average will be allowed a five per cent credit.

The peril of riding bicycles carelessly, especially the practice of carrying a second rider, will be brought to the attention of all the school children of Saanich, as a result of a circular letter of warning to be sent to all teachers. The school board last night took this action in compliance with a suggestion from the Saanich Police Commission.

Alfred West was fined $10 in the city police court this morning for riding his motorcycle to the common danger along Quadra Street on the evening of October 8. Constable Albert Wells presided over the case. The defendant, although he pleaded not guilty, lost his case. It was the first time he had been charged, he said.

Two Chinamen, Looey and Lung, were charged with having optimum in the city police court today. The case was given at the brief concluding session of Major W. G. Swan's irrigation inquiry at the Parliament Buildings. In effect, the commissioner was told by officials of the water branch of the Lands Department that the Government never had taken any responsibility for the amount of money spent in rehabilitating the interior water districts, and that no figures on the maximum cost of this work had ever been given to the water users.

This statement was made emphatically by E. A. Cleveland, former controller of water rights, and by Major J. C. Macdonald, his successor. After the conclusion of the session officials expressed the view that the long question of responsibility for these expenditures, a sore point with the irrigationists for many years, had finally been settled and would not be raised again.

NEW ASSURANCE GIVEN
Detailed evidence, supported by Government records, was given by Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Macdonald to prove that at no time had any officials of the Government given the irrigationists any assurance as to the cost of the irrigation works. Figures supplied from time to time as to the probable cost were described as practically hypothetical, useful for comparative purposes only and not in any way indicating the maximum expenditure.

Out of this discussion it appeared to develop that the irrigationists had regarded the Government as having made the cost of irrigation works a leading argument for demanding reductions in water charges. They claimed, in brief, that the Government engineers had estimated the cost of the work at certain figures, which were largely exceeded, with resulting high water charges to repay the Government.

REPORT SOON
After listening to officials and growers here the board was promised that he would file his report with the Government in about two weeks. No more evidence will be heard unless Hon. T. D. Mullo, Minister of Lands, decides to file a statement with the committee. In any case the report will be available in ample time for the use of the Legislature at its coming session when the matter will be discussed.

IRIGATIONISTS COMPLIMENTED
Major Swan at the conclusion of his inquiry on his fairness and patience in hearing all representations made to him.

Those who took part in the Pacific Foreign Trade Council convention will not soon forget Victoria's stated William Pigott, president of the council, in a letter of warm appreciation to those in this city who helped in the arrangement of the gathering which brought a large number of prominent business men here to discuss mutual problems of Pacific trade and commerce.

The following resolution was passed by the council setting out its appreciation for the manner of its reception here:

"This convention expresses its high appreciation of the work done by the executive officers of the Pacific Foreign Trade Council, the Chambers of Commerce of Pacific Coast cities, and particularly the chambers of Seattle and Victoria in preparing for the convention."

"We particularly thank the various convention committees of the city of Victoria for the thoroughness and care they have given to the convention, and their courtesy to the visiting ladies."

"We also desire to thank the Dominion, provincial and city officers for the cordiality of their welcome, and the Press of Victoria and other Pacific Coast cities for their full and friendly reports."

To the official resolution Mr. Pigott added his personal thanks for the warmth of the reception accorded convention delegates here.

SILKINGS FINED IN POLICE COURT

Magistrate Jay Imposes Penalty of $100 in Assault Case

Walter Skillings, charged with assaulting John Day in the Conservative Club Rooms, Campbell Building, on the afternoon of October 6, was fined $100 by Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court this morning.

Mr. Skillings, who pleaded not guilty to the charge, and was defended by Patrick J. Sinnott, is alleged to have struck Day several times in the face after an argument.

Magistrate Jay summed up the evidence this morning, when he reviewed the whole case. He had gone carefully into the evidence, he said, and had carefully considered it. There was no doubt, he said, that an assault was committed. This was a fact admitted by the defence, he asserted. Furthermore, it was an assault which occasioned grievous bodily harm to John Day, whose face bore testimony to the force of the blows.

The defence was, said His Honor, that Skillings struck Day only under severe provocation. It had been held, by the defence, he said, that a provocation of this kind was not reason or justification for assault.

There were only two witnesses, Magistrate Jay recalled. Day was the Crown's star witness, and Frederick Garnham for the defence. There was considerable conflict between the evidence of these two men, His Honor said. He disagreed with what was said under discussion when the alleged assault took place.

It was more than common assault, His Honor added, and the fine should meet the serious nature of the offence, he thought.

ENGINEERS DENY THEY ASSURED INTERIOR USERS ON LIMITATION OF EXPENDITURES

The Government's reply to the claims of interior irrigationists, given at the brief concluding session of Major W. G. Swan's irrigation inquiry at the Parliament Buildings, in effect, the commissioner was told by officials of the water branch of the Lands Department that the Government never had taken any responsibility for the amount of money spent in rehabilitating the interior water districts, and that no figures on the maximum cost of this work had ever been given to the water users.

Miss Wilson Wins Club Title At Oak Bay By 14 Strokes

Last Round of 72-Hole Competition Held To-day; Miss Wilson's Total 349

Mrs. Philbrick Finishes Second With Mrs. Jack Rithet in Third Place

Miss Marion Wilson won the Class "A" championship of the Victoria Golf Club to-day at the finish of the fourth round of the seventy-two-hole competition. She finished with an aggregate score of 144 strokes on the four rounds, which was 14 strokes better than Mrs. Philbrick, who was in second place. Miss Wilson's score for the four rounds was 89, 92, 91, 91, which gave her a total of 363.

Mrs. Philbrick, who finished in second place, played very consistently all through the championship. Her scores were 89, 92, 91, 91, which gave her a total of 363.

Mrs. Jack Rithet displaced Mrs. Philbrick for third place as a result of a good round this morning. Mrs. Rithet came home in 95, while Mrs. Philbrick had her worst round of the tournament and went over the century mark for the first time. She had 102.

Mrs. Harry Ross had a fine round this morning, going around in 92 and bringing her total to 363, just three strokes behind Mrs. Philbrick.

THE SCORES
The scores for the four rounds and the totals were as follows:
Miss Wilson, 89-92-91-91-363.
Mrs. Philbrick, 89-92-91-91-363.
Mrs. Rithet, 90-97-95-95-377.

First Flight—First Round
Mrs. Harry Davis won by default.
Miss R. McBride defeated Miss H. Wilson, 7 and 5.
Mrs. L. C. Boyd defeated Mrs. McIntosh, 2 up.
Mrs. D. H. Hume defeated Mrs. Homer-Dixon, 6 and 4.
Second Flight—Semi-Finals
Miss Helen Forman defeated Miss A. McAlister, at twenty-second.
Mrs. W. P. Unsworth defeated Mrs. Peachey at nineteenth.
Third Flight—Semi-Finals
Mrs. Bagley defeated Miss G. Irving, 3 and 2.
Miss N. Wilson defeated Miss D. Crump, 9 and 1.
Fourth Flight—Final
Miss P. Heming defeated Miss J. Gibson, 1 up.

HORSE RACING

New York, Oct. 13.—H. F. Whitney's Bostonian won the feature of the Columbus Day Handicap, a feature of the program. Canter finished second, two and one-half lengths ahead of Dolan. Five went to the post for the mile and one-eighth. As the barrier lifted Joy Smoke wheeled and was left at the post. It was a neck and neck run all the way around. Canter leading by a head, in front of Bostonian, until twenty yards from the finish, where their positions changed. Bostonian got wider stride and beat Canter by the same margin, a head. Dolan was in third position all the way. The track was sloppy and the time was 1:54.2-5. Ariel galloped home with the Columbus Day feature at Jamaica, doing six furlongs in 1:12.3-5. Sortie was second and Russian third. Hawthorne's six furlongs event for all ages went to May Cooper, with Jack Alexander beating out Gotham for the place. The time was 1:19.5-5. Guest captured the fourth race for two-year-olds at Thorncliffe, with Parakee second and Ellen O. third. The third of the six furlongs was 1:16.4-5. There were eleven starters. A $5,000 purse offered in the Piermont Handicap at Jamaica went to Kentucky II, with Jockey Laverne Fator in the saddle. Cloudland beat out Cherry Pie for the place. The mile and one-eighth was run in 1:51. Display, Mimba and Light Carbine also ran.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The Chicago Day handicap added purse to-day will inaugurate the first Fall meeting at the Arlington Park, new $2,000,000 racetrack of the American National Jockey Club. The opening of the new track has been proclaimed "Charity Day." The proceedings going to the Children's Home and Aid Society. A record crowd is expected. The Chicago Day handicap has attracted an entry of twenty-one of the leading stakes horses in the country. The weight of 125 pounds, carrying top weight of 125 pounds. Six other races are on the programme. The meeting at the new track will run for nineteen days, culminating

CROWDS AT CHESS UPSET CAPABLANCA NOW HE IS BEHIND

Buenos Aires, Oct. 13.—Dr. Alexander Alekhine of Russia to-day was leading Jose R. Capablanca of Cuba, present titleholder, in their match for the world's chess championship.

The Russian challenger, by taking the twelfth game of the series last night, increased his string of victories to three, as against two for the Cuban master. The other seven were drawn. Six victories are necessary to clinch the championship.

Thus far during the match Capablanca has seemed much better form and extremely nervous. He pleaded last night that the public be excluded as the watchers disturbed him.

London, Oct. 13.—M. Vidmar of Yugoslavia, A. Nimzowitch of Denmark, and M. Winter of England were the winners yesterday in the third round of the international chess masters' tournament at the British Empire Club.

The other three games of the round were drawn, one being that between Marshall, the American champion, and Bogoljubov of Germany. These two played for thirty-six moves and then agreed to divide the point. Marshall conducted the white side of a queen's pawn opening.

Hockey Receipts Go Up Rapidly Reports In Vancouver Show Have Been Nearly Doubling For Past Two Years; no Action on Inter-city Games

Vancouver, Oct. 13.—Amateur hockey affairs in Vancouver this winter will be governed by a new group of officers with G. Ned Stacey, vice-president of the Vancouver Rugby Union, as president; D. Bordewick, first vice-president; Dr. G. C. Sedgwick, of the University of British Columbia, as second vice-president; and E. J. H. Cardinal, secretary-treasurer. Retiring President A. R. Dingman stated that after three years in that office he would not be a candidate for re-election, while Mr. Bordewick said that pressure of business would not allow him to continue in the office of secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Bordewick presented the final account for the past year, showing a bank balance of $100, and that the league's proportion of takings at the arena had been $1,808 as compared with $1,129 in 1924-25 season, and $715.50 in the previous year.

HELD OVER FOR YEAR
The case of the Nationals club was extended for a year. In other words, the club franchise, which was suspended at the end of the 1926-27 playing season, will be held in abeyance for this season. This means that the City League will in all probability function with three senior clubs, ex-King George, Monarchs and Tynes, no application having been received from any other clubs.

The personnel of the league will be settled at the adjourned annual meeting which will be called on Mr. Stacey's orders. A letter was read intimating that he intermediate Terminals of last year, had amalgamated with the Monarchs, whose name would be retained.

A letter was read from Secretary Tweedie, of the B.C.A.H.A., referring to the necessity of taking quick action on registration forms but Mr. Bordewick pointed out that he had only obtained the forms from President Watson, of Victoria, one day before they were due in Toronto and it was a physical impossibility to comply with in the time limit.

INTER-CITY GAMES
A request from Victoria asked that inter-city games be staged weekly during the winter season. This will be acted upon by the new executive.

HOCKEY NOTES

Montreal, Oct. 13.—George Hainsworth, goal tender who Canadians are calling "the Flying Frenchman" this season, Hainsworth's signed contract was received by the club officials to-day.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Arthur Chapman of Port Arthur, Ontario, is the property of the Windsor Hornets of the Canadian Professional Hockey League, announced President Calder of the National Hockey League. The national western amateur signed a professional contract with Windsor last season, but later had a change of heart and remained in the amateur ranks. Lester Patrick of the New York Rangers, now "king" of Chapman's relations with the "Rangers" contract. Both clubs claimed the westerner, Windsor's priority being recognized.

KAPLAN MEETS McLARNIN
Chicago, Oct. 13.—Louis (Kid) Kaplan, eastern featherweight, was substituted for Spug Myers yesterday to meet Jimmy McLarnin of California. In the main event of Promoter-Jim Muller's boxing show next Tuesday, Myers broke his left hand in training yesterday.

TEAMS WORKOUT
The intermediate rugby, soccer and basketball teams of the 16th Canadian Scottish will work out to-night at the Scoteries.

172 days of racing in the Chicago district, with the Jockey Laverne Fator in the saddle. Cloudland beat out Cherry Pie for the place. The mile and one-eighth was run in 1:51. Display, Mimba and Light Carbine also ran.

Indoor Boxing At New York Promises To Be Very Lively

Tex Rickard Lines up Flock of Heavyweights For His Elimination Contests

Delaney and Renault, Two Canadians, Meet To-morrow; Others Matched

New York, Oct. 13.—The indoor boxing season of 1927-8, especially so far as Tex Rickard's Madison Square Garden programme is concerned, promises to be one of the liveliest in years.

Another brigade of heavyweights is being marshalled for a series of eliminations leading up to selection of a new champion for Gene Tunney's crown by the time the outdoor season rolls around.

In addition, renewed activity is forecast among the lighter divisions, especially in the flyweight, bantamweight, light-heavyweight ranks, all of which involve some disputes about title ownership.

The other three games of the season of 1927-8, especially so far as Tex Rickard's Madison Square Garden programme is concerned, promises to be one of the liveliest in years.

DELANEY MEETS RENAULT
Jack Delaney, whose comeback victory on a foul over Paolino at the Yackee stadium, was not impressive, will make another bid for heavyweight recognition when he meets Jack Renault to-morrow at the Garden. Renault was considered a real title contender a few years ago, but that rating no longer is accorded him. He may furnish a good test for the Bridgeport sharpshooter, however.

Scott and Paolino are matched November 4, while Hennessy is slated to meet Sharkey November 18, the winners of these two to be drawn together in a later elimination. Apparently, however, on the basis of previous juggling of the fistic talent, it will take two or more eliminations before any of the big fellows are actually engaged in a title bout.

LOUGHNAN VS. SLATTERY
Negotiations are understood to be underway for a match between Tommy Loughnan of Philadelphia and Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, to settle the light-heavyweight title. Loughnan is recognized here as champion on the strength of his victory over Mike Tighe, to whom the title was deeded after Jack Delaney's abdication. Tighe, however, had undisputed possession of the 125-pound crown before voluntarily retiring two years ago. Johnny has ambitions of demonstrating he still is of title calibre, although in action he has been regarded by experts as well past his prime.

WALTER JOHNSON
Walter Johnson, whose comeback victory on a foul over Paolino at the Yackee stadium, was not impressive, will make another bid for heavyweight recognition when he meets Jack Renault to-morrow at the Garden. Dempsey And Kearns To Sign Peace Pact According To Story
Former Champ and His Old Manager Come to Terms; Lawsuits Cancelled

New York, Oct. 13.—The New York Daily News in a copyrighted story to-day says Jack Dempsey and his former manager, Jack Kearns, are about to sign a peace pact, returning Kearns as pilot of the former heavyweight champion.

The reconciliation is expected to take place within ten days, after which Dempsey will return east to talk with Kearns on plans for a barnstorming trip, which will include battles this winter in Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles and New York.

WITHDRAW LAWSUITS
The Daily News says that under the terms of the peace pact, as outlined, Kearns has agreed to withdraw all the lawsuits he has pending against Dempsey, while Dempsey has agreed to sign a long term contract giving Kearns one-third of all his future earnings.

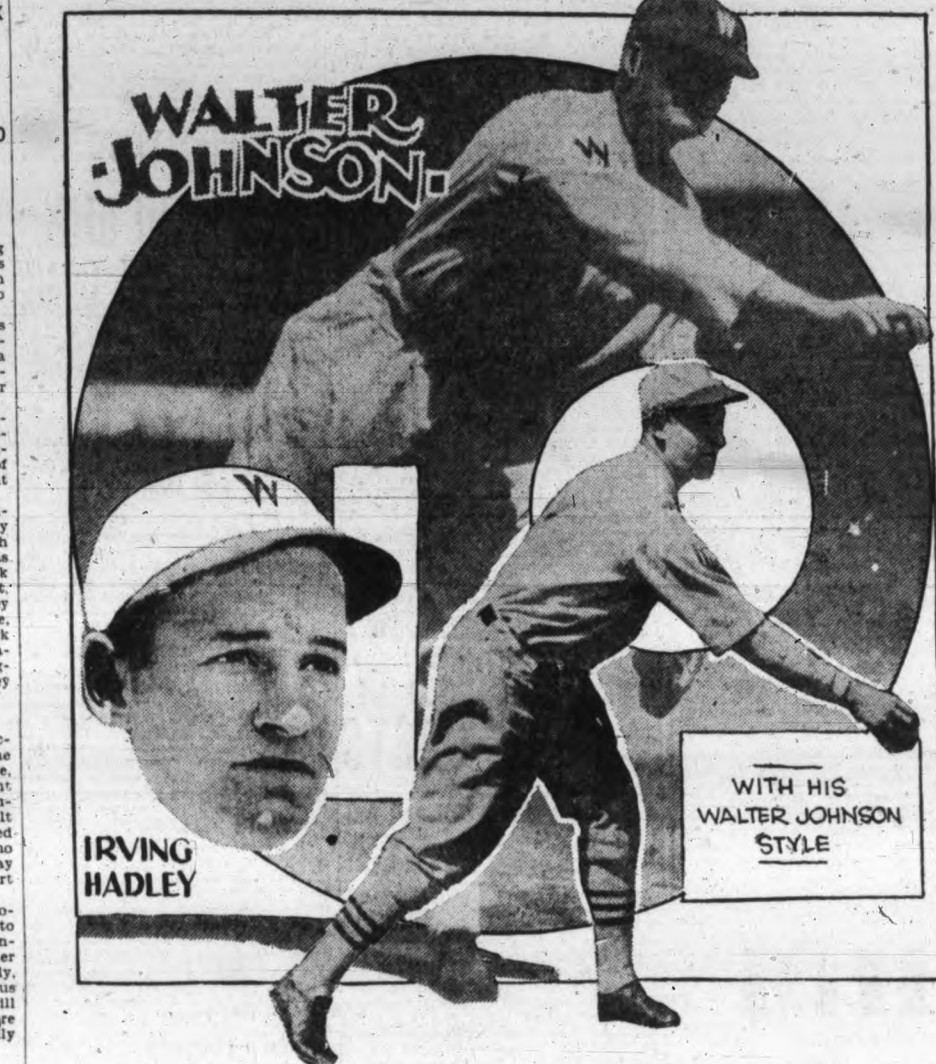

Since their break after the Dempsey-Firpo fight in 1923, Kearns brought suit for $333,333.33, which is scheduled to come up for preliminary hearing in Trenton, N.J.

Leo P. Flynn is guiding the fortunes of the former champion at present.

Davis Cup Winners Accorded Big Honor
Paris, Oct. 13.—The four men who won the Davis Cup from America yesterday were received and congratulated at the Elysee Hall by President Doumergue. This was considered the first time the head of the French Republic ever received athletes to congratulate them on their achievements.

Retains His Crown
Toronto, Oct. 13.—George Pfeiffer, Toronto's featherweight champion, successfully defended his crown against Doug Lewis, Toronto, in a ten-round championship bout here last night. The referee's decision was given so that both finish in the stretch in front of the stands.

WILL HADLEY PROVE SECOND JOHNSON? Both Owner Griffith and Manager Harris Have Such Hopes For Youngster

By BILLY EVANS
Sent to the Southern League for experience Hadley made rapid progress. Last season with the Birmingham Club he won fourteen games while losing only seven, for a third place in the league. Washington scouts who looked the former collegian over pronounced him ready.

When I struck Tampa, training quarters of the Nationals this Spring, looking over the half hundred players in the club, Washington scouts who looked the former collegian over pronounced him ready.

Among his teammates, Hadley is known as "Bumps," but the opposition never subjects him to such treatment. The nickname came about in a peculiar manner. In the Spring Hadley suffered an attack of mumps, a disease common to children, but he had been immune as a kid. He had many mumps to show for it, bumps, so to speak.

Nick Altrock gave him the sobriquet of "Bumps" and it will probably stick to him through his entire career. Nick, who enjoys a joke, even if it is at his own expense, dropped in Hadley's room one day while he was confined to bed after having a good laugh, said:

"You look funnier than me, you're full of bumps, just as if you had been stepping into Johnson's fast one."

Four or five other players in the team joined in the laugh and that day the nickname of "Bumps" was coined for Hadley.

While Hadley's fast ball doesn't rate with the one that Walter Johnson turned loose when he broke into the big show, he has plenty of speed. To this, add a good curve of two species, one a slow-breaking slant, the other fast and deceptive. At present he is working on a change of pace and doing nicely.

Hadley won thirteen games for Washington this year. This is a high mark for a first-year performer. Not only can Hadley pitch but he can also bat. He takes a mean cut at the ball and is always dangerous. He believes in swinging, on the old theory you can't make bunts with the bat on.

Keep your eye on Irving "Bumps" your shoulder.

Hadley for he is destined to have a long and successful career in baseball even if he doesn't reach the mark. Walter Johnson has already set, twenty days of continuous service with the same club.

CARPET BOWLING
Carpet bowling in Hampton Hall, the home of the Burnside Lawn Bowling Club will begin on Monday evening next. Probably three nights a week will be devoted to the game, the carpet being occupied one night by the Burnside team, another by the Burnside team, and there is prospect of a third team making this centre its home pasture.

Everything points to a busy winter for the followers of the straight wood pastime.

RIOTS AT FIRST Rennie & Taylor Games ON RUTH'S BARNSTORM TRIP

New York, Oct. 13.—Habe Ruth and Lou Gehrig have started to play two ball games on the first leg of their barnstorming tour and both have resulted in riots, with no damage done. The barnstorming tour led a star team to a 3-1 victory over the Bushwicks yesterday at Brooklyn. Ruth getting two doubles and a single and Gehrig a double. The contest ended just as the Bushwicks started to take their final turn at bat.

Ruth, who had played first base and taken a turn on the pitching mound, elected to set in a box seat. A crowd of 26,000 fans, crowding the park to its capacity, swarmed toward the homerun king. A police escort was provided and Babe got to safety, but there was no chance to resume play.

Peden And Jackson Will Ride In Long Race On Mainland
"Big Bill" Favored to Win 25-Mile Ride For Pacific Coast Road Championship

Vancouver, Oct. 13.—The Vancouver Bicycle Club's annual twenty-five-mile time trial for the Vancouver Exhibition Association's Cup and the Pacific Coast road-racing championship will be staged on the Pacific Highway, just out of New Westminster, on Sunday at 9 a.m.

The start will be immediately south of the New Westminster bridge across the Fraser. The riders will go twelve and a half miles on the highway and return to the starting point. The race will be staged at minute intervals. Stewards will be stationed at the turning point to keep traffic in check. A Littlejohn will be in charge of the official at the turn, while Fred Deely and A. Y. Douglass will be judges at the finish. L. B. Haskins and Dave Cooke are timekeepers.

PEDEN FAVORED
Victoria's two star distance men, Bill Peden and Stanley Jackson, have already filed their entries. Both are in fine condition. Peden is favored by many to come through on top by reason of his record-breaking performance in the Moody Cup race around Stanley Park last month. Peden is former Washington state ten-mile champion.

Jim Davies, who won the inaugural race for the trophy three years ago, will again be a contender. Davies, who is a human spring, has a star distance man of more than ordinary ability and has a great number of supporters.

Leo Marchiori, who finished second to Chester Mills of Seattle in last year's race, is also one of the outstanding men competing. Besides these stars, the best riders among the youngsters are out to make a bid for championship honors.

Speed Burst Makes Car Go Crazy, Turn Over, Then Take Fire
Harry Hartz Nearly Killed in Speedway Crash, Going at Terrific Speed

Rockingham Speedway, Salem, N.H., Oct. 13.—A spectacular crash that set fire to the speedway and sent Harry Hartz, one of America's leading automobile race drivers, to a hospital seriously injured, yesterday forced a halt in the 200-mile Columbus Day Sweepstakes here. A seventy-five-mile dash was then held to determine prize winners and championship point scores in the incomplete bid race.

The accident occurred on the fifty-second lap of the scheduled 200-mile grueling race. Hartz, attempting to catch the lead from youthful Frank Lockhart by a terrific dash directly in front of the grandstand, lost control while travelling at a 120-mile-an-hour clip. The machine skidded crazily down the boards to the dirt, overturned and hurled Hartz twenty-five feet.

BURST INTO FLAMES
Bursting into flames, the car bounded back on to the track and rolled over four more times, starting four fires along the infield rail.

Hartz was conscious when he reached the field hospital, and later was reported a deep gash in his head and a broken leg. His condition, while said to be serious, was not regarded as critical.

Referee A. T. Hart decided to call the race a contest, allowing the drivers to place in the order in which they were driving when the starter's warning flag halted the race, and to stage another race of seventy-five miles, splitting the total cash prize of $25,000 and A.A.A. championship points among the place winners of the two races.

The decision of Lockhart first place, Hartz second, Peter de Paolo, present champion point leader, third; Babe Stapp, fourth, and Cliff Woodbury fifth.

The seventy-five-mile race, started as soon as the track was cleared, proved a walkaway for Lockhart, who led all the way, finishing in 35 minutes 31.19 seconds. The race ended with an accident slows up the field failed to hinder Lockhart, who sent his machine around at an average of from 125 to 130 miles an hour. Peter Kreis was second and Frank Elliott third.

WESTS PRACTICE
A work-out of the Victoria West football eleven will be held to-night at the First United gymnasium between 7 and 8 o'clock.

Rennie & Taylor Defeat Clubmen In Hard-fought Match

Last Year's Champs Win By 2-0 Score; Garrison Beat Navy by 2-1 Count

Bays Easy Winners; Garrison and Bakers Are Now Tied For League Leadership

Scoring one goal in each half while they held their opponents scoreless Rennie & Taylor defeated the Tilliums 2-0 yesterday afternoon at the Royal Athletic in a hotly contested Wednesday League soccer match. The winners displayed the same form that carried them to the league championship last season and, although the Tilliums put up a hard fight, the youngsters were forced to bow before the experience of the older eleven.

In the other two matches the Garrison won from the Navy at Beacon Hill by the score of 2-1, while the Hudson's notched their first victory of the season, defeating Saanich United by the overwhelming score of 9-0.

TIED FOR LEAD
The Bakers and Tommies are now tied for the league leadership, each with two victories out of four. Their first game was a draw, 1-1, with the Bays in the first half, with one victory and one defeat each.

In the first half of their game with Rennie's the Tilliums threw away many chances to score. Their forwards worked hard, but after getting the ball within shooting distance fell down badly. For the first ten minutes the Bakers were on the offensive and forced two corners in quick succession. The first shot of the game came from the toe of Spence, who cleared the ball well down the field and the Tillium forwards carried the ball into the Bakers' goal area, where Tupman cleared.

BAKERS GET PENALTY
Halfway through the period the Bakers were awarded a penalty kick for backcharging. Davis, who took the kick, shot wide of the goal. The Tilliums made several openings, but their shots were wild.

The Bakers' right for the Bakers, scored the first goal of the game when he took a pass close to the goal-mouth and slipped the ball past Salloway.

Play slowed down considerably in the second half, with Rennie's having a slight edge. The Tilliums made desperate efforts to even up the score, but were unable to penetrate the strong defence put up by Tupman and Salloway. Following a pretty run John Taylor headed the ball into the net for the Bakers' second and final goal. For the remainder of the game play remained mostly in mid-field. Just before time Rennie were awarded a second penalty, but Salloway saved Hays' drive.

"Scotty" McKay refereed and the teams were as follows:

Rennie & Taylor—Lewtas, Gilbert, Tupman, Smith, J. Stewart, Dave Steen, Taylor, Borde, Speak, Hay and Davis.

Tilliums—Salloway, Clarke, Burns, Sewell, Hocking, Davis, Cann, Hamer, Wright, Russell and Rigby.

The army came to play in the battle between the Services at Beacon Hill. The Garrison played well. The Navy played hard, but their forwards lacked the finish to get goals.

Kicking down the slope in the first half the Garrison forced the issue and ten minutes after the opening whistle Middleton beat Barker with a soft shot to put the Tommies one goal in the lead. The Navy broke away on several runs, but were unable to find the goal.

In the second half the Navy played a far better game, but still found trouble in front of the net.

The Garrison forced an opening for Richard, who drove the ball past Barker from a few feet out. Two goals down the Navy brought their whole team down the field and play was kept in the Tommies' goal mouth. Lovett missed an open goal by shooting wide, but five minutes from time Marr drove a wicked shot past Lindgren for the Navy's only goal.

Saunders refereed, and the teams were as follows:

Garrison—Lindgren, Farrar, Wallace, Kemp, Speirs, Quinn, Newton, Richard, Middleton, Barker and Henry.

Navy—Craig, Hall, Dyson, C. White, Roberts, Prizant, Stone, Marr, Kerr, Lovett and Barr.

The second match at Beacon Hill proved to be just a good practice for the Hudson's Bay, who had it all over the Saanich eleven. The youngsters tried hard but did not measure up to the Bays.

In the first half the Bays scored three goals and in the last period added six more. The goals were scored by King, who got three, while Fish and Collier got two apiece and Playfair one. Hewison refereed and the teams were as follows:

Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton, Hagen, Gardiner, Mair, Oakman, Kerchin, Addie, Fish, King, Collier and Playfair. Saanich United—Speller, Lynn, Love, Hogarth, Moir, Barry, Brown, Tooby, Simpson, Stoller and Ash.

TUNNEY'S FRIEND MARRIES
New York, Oct. 13.—The marriage on October 1 of Edward P. Fagan, Rhodes scholar, and sparring partner for Gene Tunney, to Miss Margaret Colgate, daughter of Sidney Colgate, Jersey City manufacturer, was announced yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Colgate. The wedding took place at Saratoga Lake. In 1923, Fagan won the Amateur Boxing Association championship of England. His home is in Denver, Colo.

Manager for Edward Johnson and other world-famous singers endorses throat-easy Buckingham CIGARETTES

Edward Johnson

EDWARD JOHNSON, leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, a native-born Canadian, who has achieved world-wide acclaim, is at present on a concert tour of Ontario cities where he is appearing before capacity houses. Mr. Suckling, whose endorsement of Buckingham is shown here, is managing the present tour of Mr. Johnson.

Buckingham is a Canadian cigarette which has won great popularity because of its throat-easy qualities. Buckingham is a blend of choice tobaccos—so perfected as to give the greatest smoking satisfaction without any irritation to the delicate tissues of the throat. You, too, will find Buckingham throat-easy.

MR. I. E. SUCKLING, who is managing the present Canadian tour of Edward Johnson, writes:

"Coming in contact as I do with the leading singers of the world, I find it very necessary to smoke a cigarette that does not irritate or give offense to those who guard their voices so closely. I have smoked Buckingham for several years. It has met with the immediate favor of great singers who come to Canada. They have remarked on its throat-easy qualities."

"Fire Prevention Week is being observed in all city schools, through the co-operation of the City School Board. It was reported at the regular meeting of city trustees last night. Essays on fire prevention, and talks by the Fire Chief and local agents will make the event.

The board granted permission to the Oakland Scout Troop to use the Laguna Dam which supplies water to a vast tract of land formerly unutilized. Rival companies vie for the job and threats of violence come to Bob Owen, the husky young foreman, and to Bob Owen's right hand man, Rinty.

There is a girl too, who adds to complications. And there are landladies, whirling torrents, explosions of powder magazines, snipers, bad men, a sheriff's posse! And befitting crags which menace the blinded girl, and prove the undoing of the villain, when Rinty, the avenger, comes on the scene! It is a rip-roaring story and Rinty-Tin fights his way through it.

Such well-known players add him as Jason Roberts, Virginia Brown Fairie, Tom. Santoski, Nanette, Theodore Lorch, Dave Morris and Wilfred. Ray Knight directed. The Wonder Dog has never been given a better opportunity to display his unique talents than in "Tracked by the Police."

The vaudeville at the Coliseum this week is good, each act receiving much applause. Ralph Sanfield, the strolling entertainer, is one of the big hits of the bill. A dramatic sketch, with George Durham, Eileen Allwood and Sid Brice in the cast, is worth seeing. Closing the bill is the Colman Sisters, in songs; new and old.

On the screen is the best feature picture, to be shown in this theatre in a long time. It is "Barbed Wire," a picture of an epic battle of the war as seen through the eyes of a soldier in the trenches.

This is the newest "camera angle" effect conceived by the swift-moving mind of Erich Pommer, the European genius now a featured producer for Paramount.

The camera is doing its duty well when it views the scene as the actual spectator would see it. Pommer declares. "A person is entering a room. Put the camera in that person's place and make it walk in with him. This newcomer is greeted by a friend sitting in a chair. Put the camera where the chair is located, and train it on the door."

"This idea we followed in filming the battle scenes for 'Barbed Wire.' Men fought the war from beneath the surface of the ground, from the trenches. To get the same effect 'This is the idea we followed in filming."

WILL MARSHALL IN TITLE ROLE OF STAGE FEATURE THIS WEEK

Did you ever hear of "The Body in the Bag"? Will Marshall has not only heard of it, but he is the body that is in the bag in this week's stage attraction at the Playhouse. "Over the River Charlie," "Over the River Charlie" and has some harrowing experiences as a very live corpse. He renders a fine comic song entitled "There's a Trick in Picking a Chick, Chick, Chick."

"The Fighting Edge," the Warner Bros. classic of the screen is also at the Playhouse. This film introduces a delightful new screen team to film fans. Kenneth Harlan and Patsy Ruth Miller are co-featured in this exciting melodrama of the alien-smuggling industry, based on the William MacLeod Raine novel and directed by Henry Lehman.

Mr. Harlan plays the Spanish-Irish hero who outwits the gang of smugglers, and Miss Miller the lovely and courageous heroine who finds romance in the midst of danger when she goes in search of her father who has been held a prisoner by the smugglers.

Three teachers of Craigflower School last night urged the Saanich School Board to remedy heating and ventilation conditions at their school. The board was assured that on cold days teachers have to wear overcoats while conducting classes, children contract severe colds and are retarded in studies by lack of comfort. Sanitary arrangements were criticized by Principal G. S. Taylor. Chairman Hobbs promised personal examination into conditions.

NIGHT SCHOOLS
Night school service in Saanich is to be extended by opening classes at Tolmie and McKenzie Avenue schools. The School Board was well pleased with reports of popular support accorded the initial classes opened at Strawberry Vale School recently, under the direction of H. H. Massey. Classes will open on Friday evening next at Tolmie School, and will be initiated at McKenzie Avenue school next Wednesday. Studies will commence at 7.30 o'clock.

"THE WET RAG"
AT CRYSTAL GARDEN
ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Just how unbearable a husband can be, and on the contrary, just how sweetly diplomatic a wife can be in order to gain her own ends, is the theme of "The Wet Rag." Friday night's popular play at the Crystal Garden by the Co-Optimist Comedy Company.

The Co-Optimist Comedy Company, possesses that happy knack of choosing the cream of the legitimate stage's current offerings and presenting them in one or two acts without losing much of the original productions' mirth and humor. Mr. and Mrs. Legge-Willis take the leading roles in this potted medley of sobs and laughter. Proceeding "The Wet Rag" there will be a short curtain-raising sketch entitled "Home at Last," presented by Richard Blomfield, Mrs. Sturrock, Miss Spencer and Mr. Legge-Willis. It reveals some trying incidents in the day's work of a young couple who have just returned from their honeymoon.

The Crystal Garden Concert Orchestra, under the leadership of William Tickle, will also be heard in several numbers by eminent composers. After the concert the entire audience is invited to adjourn to the South Ballroom, where dancing will be enjoyed until midnight.

SCREEN DEVELOPS FINE DANCERS WHO WORK AS EXTRAS

The motion picture industry has developed more good dancers than can find employment in the dance business proper either as a religious ritual or a form of amusement. There are literally thousands of good dancers in Hollywood, Culver City, and Los Angeles, where the majority of the world's pictures are made.

These couples—became experts through their work in pictures. Many of them have never played a part in the picture but, for years, have done atmospheric work as dancers in lavish ballroom, cafe and cabaret settings.

It is estimated by Robert Z. Leonard, director of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Adam and Evil," a feature comedy co-starring Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle, and now showing at the Dominion Theatre, that there are fully ten thousand young men and women working as "extras" in pictures that could qualify as expert dancing couples for the vaudeville stage.

DON ALVARADO IN LEADING MALE ROLE ON CAPITOL SCREEN

After five years in motion pictures, Don Alvarado finds himself in the position of a young man with the leading male role opposite Constance Talmadge in "Breakfast at Sunrise," and the promise of an unusual screen future.

In "Breakfast at Sunrise," which is playing at the Capitol Theatre all this week, Alvarado portrays the character of a poverty-stricken French aristocrat who is inveigled into a spiteful future.

Uncle Wiggly's Leaping Lettuce

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis)

"Ker ump wung goodle!" croaked

Bully No. 1, the frog boy, to his brother Bawly one day as they floated around in the pond on lily leaf rafts.

"Jerung gung!" Uncle Wiggly said.

"Zung out! Bung bang! Ker ing

ker ung," answered Bawly.

"That was the way the frog boys talked, but as it may be a bit hard for you to understand them, I will put it into English for you. What Bully said was:

"I know how we can play a good joke. A fine joke. On Uncle

Wiggly."

And Bawly answered:

"Let's do it! The sooner the better."

"What is it?"

"I will put into English for you. What

Lighting and Ventilation of Schools to be Improved

Dr. David Berman, Sanishan Medical Officer, last night asked the School Board to provide, at a cost of about $50, small instruments needed for adequate examination of school pupils. Dr. Berman sketched the thorough character of the examination he proposed, stressing as his objective location of conditions handicapping children in their studies. The cost was voted unanimously.

Curative treatment was not contemplated. Dr. Berman explained, stating that parents will be informed of defects discovered and advised to have them rectified by their family physician.

Lighting conditions in two basement rooms at Cloverdale School was severely criticised by Dr. Berman, who agreed with Trustee Mrs. Beckett, who she remarked, "I favor closing the two rooms." Mrs. Beckett pointed out that the two rooms are used for primary classes, used by children accustomed to outdoor daylight.

Chairman Hobbs pointed out the funds for construction of new rooms could not be obtained from the council and considered the accommodation the best the board could provide under the circumstances.

Dr. Berman suggested that indirect artificial lighting be provided to improve it if an adequate illumination is made. The board accepted it.

Improvements in ventilation of many of the Saanich schools was declared necessary by Dr. Berman, who outlined methods of nominal cost whereby betterment may be attained. The board decided to experiment with a number of the changes outlined.
